Ike's Proposals To Hit Stiff Fight by Senate Democrats

Korea POW Commission In Tight Spot

Either Reds or Allies Certain To Oppose Decision on Prisoners

SEOUL (AP)—The Korean Repatriation Commission, caught in the middle of an Allied-Red brawl, today faced what may be the most critical problem of its existence: What to do with some 22,000 unrepatriated war prisoners Jan. 23.

The commission has two weeks until that day of decision when the allies insist the POWs be released under armistice terms.

No matter which course it chooses—freedom or further captivity for the prisoners—the answer means protests and possible violence.

Want POWs Held

The Reds insist that the prisoners be kept in their neutral zone compounds until a Korean peace conference talks over their fate for 30 days. The conference is far from a beginning; even talks to set it up are bogged down.

Both Allies and Reds cite the truce document as support—but but their interpretations vary.

The repatriation commission cancelled a meeting set for Friday afternoon to consider Allied and Red answers to a request for guidance.

The answers showed that neither side was giving an inch.

The Reds demanded Thursday that the prisoners be kept in custody under Indian troops until the conference meets and also that explanations to woo POWs home be extended until it has completed 90 actual days of interviews. The 90-day period set by the armistice ended Dec. 23. The Reds conducted interviews on 10 of the 90 days.

Allies Stand Firm

Gen. John E. Hull, U. N. commander, Friday revealed a secret note he sent the commission declaring the Allied command is "firm" in its demands for release.

His letter, dated Jan. 6, was in answer to a secret memorandum sent to both sides Jan. 2 by Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, commission chairman.

Hull said:

1. The U. N. command cannot consider "a reopening or continuance" of explanations.

2. The attitude of Communist diplomats at Panmunjom "made it extremely improbable" that a Korean peace conference will convene before Jan. 22.

3. Convening of the peace parley—as mentioned in the armistice—was "only a recommendation" of the Allied and Red military commanders and "has no determining relationship" to the POW question. The Allies see "no justification" for discussing the disposition of these prisoners "with any agency."

4. Responsibility of the Indian forces for holding the prisoners ends at one minute after midnight, Jan. 23. The prisoners then become civilians. After Feb. 21, the repatriation commission "will be dissolved and presence of Indian troops in the demilitarized zone will no longer be authorized or required."

Holdup Suspect Says He Knows Slaying Details

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Police today questioned a former New York longshoreman who told them he knew the principal figures in an unsolved Brooklyn underworld revenge killing.

The man in custody, arrested after a $20 robbery last night, identified himself as Joseph R. Reilly, 30, of Jersey City, N. J.

Detectives Leon Orr and Louis Troutman said Reilly told them he knew Arnold Schuster, 24, who was shot to death March 8, 1952, and Willie Sutton, a notorious bank bandit and jail breaker.

Schuster had spotted Sutton and tipped off police. Sutton is serving a 30-year term at Attica, N. Y. state prison.

After questioning Reilly in the City Jail, Orr and Troutman said on the basis of information at hand they considered him "just a talker."

Reilly was seized in a downtown hotel bar last night after Arthur Phillips, 45, a hairdresser, reported Reilly robbed him at gunpoint of $20. Reilly attempted to draw a gun as police closed in on him.

They said he quickly volunteered the information that he had known Schuster and Sutton.

They quoted him as saying he had been picked up in Denver last month and questioned about the case.

Reilly, according to the officers, expressed the opinion his questioning in Denver was due to his resemblance to John Mazziotta, 38, listed by New York police as a key figure in the Schuster case.

REGAL KISS. Bobby Michiels, 6, plants a kiss on the cheek of Adele Poindexter, 4, after they were crowned king and queen of the 1954 Cook County March of Dimes campaign in Chicago. The young polio victims were presented with crowns made from crisp, new dollar bills, studded with shiny dimes symbolizing the drive's slogan, "Join the March of Dimes with dollars."

Prepare for Move

Hospital Officials Plan Staff Change

By CHARLES L. MARTIN

Preparations for taking over operation of the new Marion General Hospital some 10 months hence have brought on a reorganization of administrative and nursing staffs at the present City Hospital.

Miss Irene Tinklepaugh, hospital administrator, said the revamping is necessary because of the larger patient capacity and increased services which will be offered at the new hospital.

Planning of the reorganization had its start in 1946. In 1950, shortly after the voters approved the first bond issue for a new city-county hospital, it was decided to adapt the plans to fit the needs of the new hospital.

NEED FOR SUCH a program was pointed up by the phenomenal growth in number of patients at City Hospital since 1936, Miss Tinklepaugh said. In that year, hospital records show 890 persons admitted and an average daily patient census of 27.

By 1952 this had grown to 6,502 admissions and an average of some 112 a day. A remarkable increase in the number of maternity cases was also shown — from 142 births in 1936 to a total of 1,255 in 1952. All totals are expected to be higher for 1953 although final tabulations are not yet complete.

In 1946, when the first reorganization moves were taken, the average daily patient census had reached hospital capacity of 100, and at times, for short periods, there were as many as 140 crowded into the building.

OPERATION OF the new hospital with its larger patient capacity — presently designed for 155 beds — will mean the employment of a larger staff. This will make the organization of departments even more necessary to provide the most efficient operation, Miss Tinklepaugh added.

One of the first concrete steps in the reorganization program was taken early in 1952 with employment of Homer Moehn of near Marion as supervisor of accounts.

Early last year, a record department was established with Miss Edna Hale placed in charge and Mrs. Fern Sharp named her assistant.

This was followed on Oct. 15 by organization of a pharmaceutical

GOP Dinner Set Feb. 11

Sen. Flanders To Speak At Lincoln Day Banquet

Sen. Ralph E. Flanders of Vermont will be the speaker for the annual Lincoln Day Dinner to be held Feb. 11 at the YMCA, it was announced when members of the Marion County Republican Club met Thursday evening.

The Republican senator from Vermont was appointed to the Senate on Nov. 1, 1946, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Sen. Warren R. Austin. He is currently serving the second year of his second six-year term.

He was born in Barnet, Vt., on Sept. 28, 1880 and following graduation from high school became a machinist apprentice. He has been in the machine tool industry in various capacities of journeyman, draftsman, designer, editor, engineer, and executive. He has also served as president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Tickets for the dinner are available at the recorder's office in the courthouse and from members.

Arthur L. Watt was elected president of the Republican Club. Watt, Marion County recorder, succeeds F. Riley Hall, local attorney, as president.

Others elected were Bertha Stewart, first vice president; John V. Ruth, second vice president; and Reed Ours, secretary-treasurer.

Named to the executive committee were Hall, Dr. F. C. Smith, Luther Mitchell, Mary Eloise Furniss, and Harold E. Lauer.

Congressmen Want Bigger Cuts in Taxes

Both Parties Complain Eisenhower's Program Is Not Broad Enough

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's tax program fell far short today of satisfying strong appetites on Capitol Hill for tax cuts in this Congressional election year.

Almost to a man, both Republicans and Democrats on the House Ways and Means Committee, where all tax bills must start, called for more or bigger reductions than the President proposed.

Calls for Sweeping Slash

One influential Republican, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (Pa), said today he would favor a sweeping slash of all excise taxes—except on liquor and tobacco—down to 10 per cent. Rates on many items now run from 15 to 25 per cent.

Eisenhower, in his State of the Union address yesterday, declared "further reductions in taxes can and will be made . . . as additional reductions in expenditures are brought gradually but surely into sight."

But the President didn't hint when, or where, new cuts might come.

And he renewed a plea for Congress to cancel three billion dollars in annual tax reductions now set automatically for April 1. These cuts would apply to corporation incomes and excises on liquor, automobiles, gasoline, cigarettes, beer, wine and sporting goods.

Toughest Program

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass) conceded the tax program probably would be the toughest to enact among Eisenhower's many proposals. "I rather expect that is where we will have our biggest difficulty," he told reporters.

Out of 13 of the 25 Ways and Means members reached for comment, only one — Rep. Goodwin (R-Mass)—did not call for some tax cuts now. The emphasis was heavy on cuts in excise or sales taxes, indicating that is the field where the big battles may come.

Request Not Renewed

Eisenhower did not mention excise taxes other than those scheduled to decline April 1. This could leave the door open for him to propose cuts in a detailed tax and budget message later—but Congressmen generally expected the administration to try to hold excise revenues to present levels.

The President did not renew his 1953 request for Congress to cancel the jump from 1½ to 2 per cent in the social security tax which

Record $10,000 Earned in Sale of Christmas Seals

Marion County's 1953 Christmas Seal sale has reached $10,000, it was announced today by Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, chairman of the campaign.

The returns represent an increase over last year's $9,574 and sets a record high in the history of the seal sale in Marion County which dates back to 1911.

Judge Ruzzo reported a few returns are still coming in and that contributions, for "Christmas Seals fight TB all year 'round."

He expressed his appreciation to the contributors and all who have helped make the 1953 campaign a success, and assured them that the Tuberculosis Association in return pledges its best efforts to the continuation of the fight against TB.

Five County Men Face Draft Call in February

Five 20-year-old youths will be inducted for the February draft call from Marion County, according to state selective service headquarters.

Total call for Ohio, which was issued today, was 890, the lowest draft call for Ohio since June, 1952, when 558 were called up, according to Director Chester W. Goble. The January call was for 1,200.

Break-down for area counties include: Crawford, 4; Delaware, 3; Hardin, 1; Morrow, 3; Union, 5; and Wyandot, 3.

THAT GRIN AGAIN. President Eisenhower, on the rostrum to address a joint session of Congress on the state of the union, has a big smile. Seated behind him in the House are Vice President Nixon (left) and House Speaker Martin, Massachusetts Republican.

Price Plan in Doubt

Long Battle Looms On Farm Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dark storm clouds massed on the Capitol Hill horizon today for a major feature of the new farm program President Eisenhower will present to Congress on Monday.

The President said in his message on the state of the union yesterday that he would propose that future farm program be built on the principle of flexible price guarantees.

Only Two Enthusiastic

Of more than 50 Congress members who commented, only two senators gave the flexible price idea warm verbal support. Some were noncommittal; more voiced opposition.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said Eisenhower wants "to get a farm program on a sound, long range basis and away from emergency treatment." That was a reference to the wartime origin of the present fixed level price props for major commodities.

Aiken predicted eventual approval of the administration program.

Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture, said in a separate interview that most farmers want to get away from rigid price supports and the rigid controls which accompany them.

'Dead as Doornail'

On the other hand, Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) said the flexible price support proposal already is as "dead as a doornail." Sen. Clements (D-Ky) predicted it "will encounter very rough weather."

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) will put it this way:

"I do not agree with the President's apparent support of the so-called sliding scale farm program. In my opinion this program will not achieve the much-to-be-desired objectives he set forth."

Rep. Albert (D-Okla), a member of the House Agriculture Committee, said the Eisenhower proposals "won't get anywhere."

First written into law in 1948, flexible supports had the backing of farm leaders of both major parties. Both parties wrote endorsements into their 1948 national platforms.

Subject of Controversy

But since that time, they have become a subject of sharp controversy, largely because the Truman administration deserted them in 1949 when the then secretary of agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, outlined a new program of high supports and production payments.

Under the flexible system, government price guarantees would be high in times when supplies of a crop were short or normal, so as to maintain or encourage increased production. They would be low in times of surpluses to encourage greater consumption and to discourage over-production.

In the beginning the flexible supports—ranging from 75 to 90 per

State Senator Simpson To File for Re-Election

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. J. E. Simpson, Republican of Forest, reported today petitions are in circulation for his re-election in the 13th-31st District composed of Marion, Seneca, Crawford, Union, Logan, Hardin and Wyandot counties. He served seven terms in the Ohio House before moving to the Senate.

Try at Slaying Reuther Called Gangster Work

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien said today gangsters, who sought to seize control of the CIO United Auto Workers, were responsible for the 1948 attempt on the life of CIO President Walter Reuther.

O'Brien discounted previous reports that gamblers had made Reuther a shotgun target because of his successful campaign to cut down gambling by workers in auto plants.

The prosecutor, top man in police investigation of the attempted assassination, said racketeers came within an eyelash of gaining control of the UAW prior to Reuther's election as president of the auto union in 1947.

O'Brien said Reuther's election eliminated a lot of the racketeer operations within the union.

The prosecutor aired his views at a press conference. It was the first official revelation of the line the prosecution will take in its efforts to convict the accused would-be assassins.

Marion Backs Lake Central's Route Request

Run From Charleston To Detroit Supported At Columbus Hearing

A Lake Central Airlines proposal to extend its north-south air service in Ohio yesterday received the support of Marion city and Chamber of Commerce officials.

In a hearing before the Civil Aeronautics Board in Columbus, J. B. Bray, speaking for Mayor Harold F. Robinson, and Harry L. Dowler, chairman of the Chamber's aviation committee, said Marion now enjoys excellent north-south service to Cleveland and Columbus and east-west service to Pittsburgh and points in Indiana and Illinois, but needs additional outlets to other cities.

Three airline companies are seeking CAB approval to extend their service in Ohio. At the hearing yesterday, the second day of the scheduled 10 days of hearings, all three airlines received boosts from interested cities.

While Marion supported Lake Central's proposal to link Charleston, W. Va., with Detroit by way of Columbus, other cities plumped for rival proposals of Piedmont Aviation, Inc., and Eastern Airlines, The Associated Press reported.

Piedmont's proposal to link Columbus and Parkersburg-Marietta to its network of air routes serving sourthern cities received the support of Parkersburg and Marietta officials.

Toledo joined Columbus and Charleston in support of Eastern Airlines proposal to add Columbus and Toledo to its north-south trunkline connecting Detroit Charleston and southeastern cities.

The Marion spokesmen asked the CAB to give "its fullest consideration to the establishment of local air service between Charleston and

To Be Here Wednesday

Next Bloodmobile Visit Will Mark Anniversary

The January visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit nex Wednesday will mark the fifth anniversary of the operation of the blood program in Marion County, Melvin Weston, blood program chairman, announced today.

During the year just closed, Marion Countians contributed 1,654 pints of blood, 1,204 of which were provided, free of charge, to patients at the City Hospital. The remaining 450 pints was contributed to the armed forces and for reasearch.

The county, with a quota of 150 pints per visit, fell short of its quota nearly 300 pints, the records show.

With 1954 echoing with New Year's resolutions, Weston suggests that residents of the county include in their resolutions one "to give blood this year for the good of the community, servicemen, the nation and who knows, for one's self."

Persons between the ages of 18 and 59 are asked to register at the Red Cross Chapter office, 2-1653, for an appointment to donate a pint of blood at the Blood Center in the First Presbyterian Church next Wednesday. The unit will be in the recreation room between 11:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Contributors are asked to refrain from eating all fatty foods at least six hours before their appointment.

'Veto' Power Is Claimed by Sen. Johnson

Sen. Byrd, Ike Backer In '52, Says He Will Fight Debt Limit Hike

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said today Senate Democrats — who outnumber Republicans by one—will exercise a "veto" power on individual items of President Eisenhower's over-all legislative program.

And Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who gave indirect support to the President in the 1952 political campaign, said he will try to stamp the first Congressional veto on Eisenhower's request for an increase in the 275 billion dollar debt limit. The President renewed it when he outlined his program yesterday to Congress.

'Gather Ammunition'

While Republican leader Knowland of California was urging bipartisan support for what he called the President's "sound and forward - looking program," Democrats were gathering their ammunition for a blast at the administration's new farm proposals—due Monday.

As reaction rolled in on the President's 7,000 word state of the union message—which he delivered in 54 minutes yesterday in a House chamber so jammed that some Senators complained they had to stand—controversies flared up over several issues.

Beside the farm and debt limit proposals, lawmakers voiced sharp differences of opinion over tax revisions, heavier reliance on atomic weapons, a plan to take citizenship away from those convicted of conspiring hereafter to overthrow the government by force, and a proposed Constitutional amendment to permit 18-year-olds to vote.

'New Dealish'

This added up to a major segment of a program that some Democrats took delight in describing as "New Dealish."

One of these, Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) said in a statement he was "gratified indeed to note that the President has accepted and endorsed the basic objectives of both the New Deal and the Fair Deal, namely, the responsibilities of government for the prosperity and welfare of the individual citizen."

This was an allusion to Eisenhower's proposals for expanding

Senate Leaders Discuss Plans To Handle Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's recommendation to deprive future Communist conspirators of U. S. citizenship was described by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) today as "half-baked." Other legislators termed it puzzling.

McCarran, senior Democrat on the Senate Judiciary Committee and its former chairman, said persons convicted of conspiring to advocate the forcible overthrow of the government already lose rights as citizens.

Doesn't Add Anything

Sen. Langer (R-ND), the Judiciary Committee chairman, said in a separate interview that "I don't see that this adds anything to the present law." A similar reaction was expressed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), chairman of the Judiciary Committee's Red-hunting internal security unit.

"How can you take citizenship from a man born here?" inquired Chairman Chauncey W. Reed (R-Ill) of the House Judiciary Committee. "You can't."

Court Action Cited

Rep. Walter (D-Pa), esteemed by his colleagues as a Constitutional lawyer, told newsmen American citizenship "is a basic law of the land, and a citizen can be deprived of it only by changing the Constitution."

The Supreme Court in 1915 upheld Congress' right to strip citizenship from an American woman who marries an alien—a positive

Urges He Seek Governorship

State Central Committee Backs Rhodes Candidacy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Forty-four-year-old James A. Rhodes, former three-term mayor of Columbus and now state auditor, is the man the Republican State Central Committee wants as Ohio's next governor.

The committee endorsed Rhodes yesterday. It also gave its blessings to Congressman George H. Bender for U.S. senator and to a full slate of candidates for state and judicial offices.

Rhodes, married and the father of three daughters, has not yet declared himself a candidate. But he says he will run against Frank J. Lausche, Democratic incumbent gunning for his fifth term, if the GOP nomination is unopposed.

He said he was "deeply appreciative" of the committee's backing and would, "in all probability," announce his plans next week.

Bender, party chairman in Cuyahoga County, has said publicly he is after the unexpired term of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. That term runs until Jan. 3, 1957.

Said Bender upon receiving word of his endorsement in Cleveland:

"I shall do my best to live up to the high traditions established by Ohio's great Republican senators."

For the first time since Ray C. Bliss of Akron became chairman in 1949, the committee endorsed a full slate of candidates.

Incumbents endorsed were Lt. Gov. John W. Brown of Medina, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown of Columbus, Treasurer Roger W. Tracy of Columbus, and Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill of Marietta. Endorsed for judge of the Ohio Supreme Court were incumbent Kingsley A. Taft of Cleveland for the Jan. 2 term, and Francis B. Douglass of Cleveland for the unexpired term of the late Judge Edward Matthias of Columbus that ends Dec. 31, 1956.

Willard D. Campbell of Cambridge, a former judge, prosecutor, state senator and head of the state bureau of code revision, also has announced for Matthias' unexpired term.

Three committee vacancies were filled. Mrs. Lila Black of Avon Lake was elected secretary. Miss Gertrude Polcar of Cleveland, a former assistant attorney general, and Richard Krabach, Lima attorney, were named to the committee to replace persons who had resigned.

The meeting was then adjourned and re-opened with clerk, Fred Hesser, administering the oath of office to Earle Feik and A. A. Frengel, re-elected members of the board. The board re-elected L. L. Hill president; Rev. W. L. Margard, vice president; and Fred Hesser, clerk. It was decided to hold regular meetings the first Tuesday of each month.

Colorado Springs Paid Unexpected Visit by 'Tourist'

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A tourist literally dropped in on Colorado Springs yesterday—from 20,000 feet straight up.

It happened because M. Sgt. James Ayres, crew member of a B50 bomber from Walker Air Force Base at Roswell, N. M., mistook an airplane alert for the bail-out signal.

Ayres hopped out of the plane, pulled the ripcord and landed safely in a field east of Colorado Springs. He then hitchhiked here.

Maj. C. W. Simonson, commander of the big bomber, said he pressed the alert signal after one of the B50's four propeller-driven engines acted up. He landed the plane at Lowry Air Force base in Denver.

Stolen Cruiser No Joke to Cincinnati Police, Boys Learn

CINCINNATI (AP)—County police didn't think it was funny when their shiny new cruiser was stolen from in front of the Deer Park police station yesterday even though three youths called it "just a big joke."

Some of the "joke" probably soured for the three youths, too, when they were charged with automobile theft and destruction of property. The three were John Bach, 20; William Earhart, 19, and a 17-year-old juvenile whose name was not disclosed.

Several hours after the cruiser was stolen it was found in a ditch almost two miles from the police station.

Westinghouse Expansion in Mansfield Set

MANSFIELD — More than 2½ million dollars will be spent this year to rearrange and expand the Westinghouse Electric Appliance Division plant here as the first step in a program to approximately double production of several major appliances and substantially increase production of portable appliances, according to an announcement made today by J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president.

"Over two million dollars of the expenditure will be for new equipment," said Ashbaugh, "much of which will be used to replace machinery now being shipped to our new plant in Columbus, O., which will eventually produce all Westinghouse refrigerators and freezers. Other new equipment, and some old equipment which will be shifted, will be placed in a new addition to the plant—a four story structure providing an additional 34,000 square feet of working area.

"The initial decision to expand production of the Mansfield plant," he continued, "was made some years ago simultaneously with the company's decision to build a new appliance plant in Columbus. While the Columbus plant will provide facilities to substantially increase production of refrigerators and freezers, the rearrangement and expansion of the Mansfield plant will give us the much needed space for all other major appliances which will continue to be produced here. Additional space is also vitally needed for the production demands of our growing lines of portable appliances."

Specifically, the greater portions of the new equipment being purchased for the Mansfield plant will be for the expansion of the following operations: (1) increased production of Corox heating units (used in many major and portable appliances); (2) an additional paint oven; (3) expanded thermostat facilities; (4) additional mechancal presses; and (5) expanded fabricating facilities for major appliances.

"The decision by Westinghouse to continue investing heavily in the Mansfield area," said Mr. Ashbaugh, "has been based on the 35-year record of industrial skill that has been exhibited here since this plant's inception. This decision is also an indication of the company's complete confidence in the economic stability of this area and its good prospects for the future."

By weight, the shrimp catch in American waters exceeds that of any other shellfish variety. Crabs, oysters, clams, lobsters and scallops follow in that order.

Officer's Curiosity Saves Lives of Two

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — A patrolman's curiosity probably saved the lives of two Springfield, Ohio, men who he found unconscious in a trailer truck here shortly before 6 a. m. today.

Patrolman John L. Eddy heard an engine running in a truck parked at a freight terminal and decided to investigate. He opened the door and found the driver and his helper slumped on the floor.

Eddy shut off the motor, pulled both men from the cab of the truck and rushed them to Rhode Island Hospital in his cruiser.

The victims, Paul Bacon, 26, of 1607 E Main St.; and Jack Evans, 20, of Rt. 2, Springfield, were quickly revived and later were discharged.

Dr. Robert Tefft, hospital physician, said both men had suffered from carbon monoxide gas inhalation.

Bacon, driver of the truck, said he and his helper were waiting for their shipping papers to be cleared and had fallen asleep. Police said the gas fumes seeped into the cab, apparently from a defective exhaust pipe.

Traffic Safety Drive Planned

Program Will Attempt To Curb Auto Mishaps

In an effort to cut down on traffic accidents and resulting fatalities, the Ohio Department of Highway Safety this year is launching a state-wide public education program.

Carrying out the program throughout the state will be the various posts of the state highway patrol, together with citizens committees in each county.

The patrol is enlisting the aid of newspapers, radio stations, and television stations throughout the state in getting the safety messages across to the people.

This program is being initiated in the hope that it will be the answer to realizing a drastic reduction in the number of traffic accidents, that are claiming a total of 2,000 lives in Ohio each year and costing approximately $180,000,000 annually.

The program was started after the Department realized that traffic enforcement in cities, counties, and on the highways has virtually reached the saturation point. Therefore, as U. C. Felty, department director, believes, "It is the department's sincere belief that the ultimate answer to the serious traffic problem lies in adequate public education."

High-Grade Aluminum Clay Deposits Discovered

HARRISBURG (AP)—Large deposits of high content aluminum clay that could supply the nation with aluminum have been discovered in a 5,000-square-mile area of western Pennsylvania, the state geologic survey disclosed today.

"A report is in preparation on the deposits," said Carlyle Gray, state geologist, "The area has been mapped and studied carefully."

Gray added, however, that lack of funds in his bureau may prevent immediate publication of the report.

Robert Bolger, assistant state geologist who is preparing the extensive report, said the clay contains alumina deposits running as high as 70 per cent, while the average is about 40 per cent.

Non-Restricted Fishing in Ohio Okayed for '54

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's liberalized fishing policy is going to be continued through the 1954 season.

The Ohio Wildlife Council announced today it had approved continuation of non-restricted fishing for the third consecutive year. That means fishermen won't have to worry about bag limits, legal lengths or closed seasons.

The council action followed recommendations of the fish management section of the Ohio Division of Wildlife and in keeping with recommendations of the farmer, sportsmen representatives of the five inland Ohio districts. These recommendations were made at the annual fish hearing last month.

Extensive creel census, shore seining and spawning records kept since the liberalized fishing policy was adopted show the policy has not affected fish population adversely, fish management men say.

The council has also approved taking of bait minnows in state-owned and state controled lakes provided that they are taken only by use of a four foot dip net.

How Ohio Congressmen Reacted to Ike's Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's State of the Union message drew this comment today from Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio):

"If the President were paying attention to the applause, he would know the primary interest of the Congress is the issue of Communism and in the reduction of the cost of government."

Other comment on the speech by Ohio members of Congress:

Sen. Burke (D): "I have no quarrel with the speech. It consisted mainly of generalities. It will be interesting to see when the special messages come along what might merit criticism. His objectives, of course, are good."

Rep. Bow (R): "Generally, I approved of it. But I want to study certain portions of it very carefully."

Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R): "A magnificent speech. I favor so much of it I wouldn't want to single out any parts I disagree with."

Rep. Bender (R): "His proposals will stimulate discussion on the many controversial issues before the country. But I believe after the shouting ends, we shall enact the Eisenhower program in large measure."

Rep. Schenck (R): "I was particularly well pleased with the President's assurance that heavy emphasis will be given in his budget message of Jan. 21 on the air power of our Navy and Air Force."

Rep. Secrest (D): "Generally, I agreed with many of his proposals 100 per cent, particularly to reduce economic aid and to make convincted Communist conspirators forfeit U.S. citizenship. I was disappointed that he did not come out for tariffs in pottery and glass."

Rep. Vorys (R): "It reglects the military experience, the organizing genius, the economic soundness, and the great heart of our President. . .with this message as a guide, I believe Congress will work out a sound, progressive program."

Rep. Hays (D): "I didn't find too much to criticize in the broad outline. But I doubt that the Republican Congress will implement many of the things he wants."

Northern Half Of U.S. Feeling Winter's Cold

By The Associated Press

Wintry weather was confined today to the northern tier of states from the Rockies to New England.

Light snow or snow flurries fell over the area. Temperatures were below freezing over the northern half of the country from the Atlantic to the Rockies. Readings were near zero in northern Michigan and Maine with sub-zero temperatures in some areas.

The Arctic air moved over the eastern Great Lakes region and into New England with readings 12 to 16 degrees lower than yesterday.

Skies were generally clear in the southern two-thirds of the nation and temperatures were around seasonal levels. Biggest warming yesterday was in the central Mississippi Valley. The nation's top reading was 79 at Guymon, Okla. The cold spot was Minot, N. D., with a high of 3 degrees above zero.

Light rain and drizzle continued today over sections of Washington and Oregon with heaviest falls along the coastal areas.

Boy Who Hit Teacher In Cleveland Sentenced

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 17-year-old high school student who punched his teacher in the eye was sentenced yesterday to an indefinite term in the Cleveland Boys School at Hudson.

Juvenile Court Judge Albert A. Woldman said the pupil "struck a blow not at this individual teacher but at our entire school system."

Ernest L. Cookson, 62-year-old science instructor, suffered a laceration above his eye after he asked the boy to take his seat in class.

America in Transition

The key statement in President Eisenhower's message to Congress on the state of the union is this:

"We are in a transition from a wartime to a peacetime economy. I am confident that we can complete this transition without serious interruption in our economic growth. But we shall not leave this vital matter to chance. Economic preparedness is fully as important to the nation as military preparedness."

Everything else in the message, except such matters as recommendations for Hawaiian statehood and reducing the voting age from 21 to 18, concerns in one way or another the problem of transition.

Actually, it is a larger problem than the President described. The United States is going through more than economic transition.

Mr. Eisenhower himself is part of a political transition which has jumbled traditional party lines and affiliations. There also is a transition in philosophy, the result of experiences which we have had in our contacts with the world and with one another.

The thing to look for in this report required by the Constitution is the formula which the chief executive intends to use on national problems.

Harry Truman had a formula; he always put Congress on the defensive so he could be its political antagonist.

Franklin D. Roosevelt had a formula; he always had another "new deal" to propose to Congress.

Dwight Eisenhower has a formula.

He wants to get along with Congress as a coordinate branch of the federal government. He does not want to antagonize it, and he does not want to dominate it with preemptory orders for rubber-stamp approval of his ideas.

He is striving—and his associates have been striving for a few days short of a year—to restore balance to a national economy which had grown boom-happy with war and lopsided with me-first politics.

This is the first administration in 20 years which is not dedicated wholly to the proposition of spending and electing.

Dwight Eisenhower is the first chief executive in 20 years who is not wholly dedicated to the proposition of getting himself re-elected to another term.

He is the first president in half a generation who is not gunning for the distinction of being a political master—and the first one who did not get a presidential nomination and an election by outwitting other political masters.

These are the elements in his background, plus his personal knowledge that they put him at a disadvantage when he deals with people who have spent their whole lives learning the ins and outs of politics.

President Eisenhower is essentially a citizen-soldier trying to comprehend and react intelligently to all the issues which ultimately must be settled by the three coordinate branches of the federal government.

As spokesman for the executive department, he must recommend action on such pending problems as the budget, internal security, the rate of industrial and agricultural production, foreign aid, debt management, national defense, social security, atomic energy, federal aid for schools, a national housing policy, taxes and maximum opposition to the Communist conspiracy.

Congress, as the implement whereby the sovereign people express their convictions, must follow or reject his recommendations. The judicial branch thereafter must approve or overrule what has been done.

That is the way the government is supposed to work.

President Eisenhower seeks a state of balance in government affairs. He is not interested in antagonizing the legislative or judicial branches of the government. He does not think of himself as a political strong man but as an individual cast by destiny in the role of caretaker for a period of transition in a country he loves.

To understand what he has tried to say about the state of the union it seems necessary first to understand how he feels about the state of the union.

No Lynching in 1953

Tuskegee Institute's lynching report for 1953 again shows a clean slate, as it did in 1952. In 1951, only one lynching of a Negro was reported. In 1950 there were two lynchings—one colored, one white.

These figures are in contrast with the reports which Tuskegee Institute made early in this century. In 1901, there were 105 colored and 25 white persons lynched. In only one year—1917—did the Negro lynch total drop below 50 until 1923.

Thereafter it varied widely from year to year, from as few as 6 to as many as 29, until 1936 and 1937, when it stabilized itself at 8 for two years in succession. Since 1937 its highest total has been 6—and now for two years there has been no lynchings.

These are perhaps the most significant statistics in the United States. They reflect the rate of social progress. Lynching occurred when undisciplined mobs, having no confidence in the law or respect for public authority, committed lethal violence in the name of justice.

Secret Concessions

By David Lawrence

Appeasement Weakens West in Big Four Talks

For five months now the United States has been appeasing Communist Russia without letting the American people know the facts. The Soviet government has known that a gradual relaxation in shipment of strategic articles for use behind the Iron Curtain has been going on — but the people of this country have been kept in the dark.

Secret diplomacy usually arises because of a fear that to tell the people the truth will bring restraints on the policy adopted. In this case, there is no evidence that the United States ever got anything in return for the valuable concessions made to the Communists.

For the last few months America publicly has been in the position of begging the Communists, in vain, to set a time and date for a peace conference to settle the Korean problem.

Several hundred American boys have been held as prisoners, despite the terms of the armistice providing for their return. Yet important concessions have been made which allow Russians to build up her armament for World War III.

THE OFFICIAL facts now indicate that British diplomacy has won one of its biggest triumphs. This correspondent wrote on December 25 calling attention to a British government public statement that the embargo on trade with the Communists on strategic articles was being relaxed. In that dispatch, the British were accused of defying the United States Congress.

Apologies are due, for it turns out that the London government had the secret approval of the United States government, permitting her to engage in the enlarged trade in strategic items with Red China and Communist Russia.

The new policy, it now is officially conceded by the Foreign Operations Administration here, began to go into effect by degrees five months ago.

It is disclosed also that there have been continuous conferences with congressional staff members on it and that there were varying reactions from certain members of Congress.

Whoever these members were, they did not see fit to enlighten the American people, though, of course, Moscow and Peiping knew all the time the items of trade that were being sanctioned.

UNDER THE NEW policy, for instance, rubber has been taken off the "strategic" list. In both World War I and World War II rubber was so considered. Evidently it doesn't matter to the Eisenhower administration if rubber is exported for the trucks that carry ammunition to kill American boys in Korea or in countries where the Communists may resume their aggression.

Evidently rubber for the tires of the MIGs and the bombers that constitute the Communist air force is not to be considered "strategic" any more, just because there's money to be made in it among the British colonial possessions. It would be safer for the American government to buy and stockpile such rubber to keep it out of the hands of the Communists.

The other "strategic" items now being allowed have not been made public, but it is admitted that the list has been contracted, while the listed of so-called "non-strategic" items has been expanded.

The argument is made here that a stricter control is being exercised now over the items that remain on the "strategic" list and that other nations have agreed to these controls.

It is also contended by the Foreign Operations Administration that the Russians lately have been compelled to ship out gold to get foreign exchange with which to buy needed articles. It is pointed out that this shows how the embargo has been pinching.

BUT THERE IS no explanation as to why, when an embargo is becoming effective, it is suddenly decided to relax it. What did the United States and the Western countries get by way of concessions from the Communists, if anything?

The four-power conference is about to start in Berlin, but the Allies have been throwing away their economic leverage. Today the Communists know the West will not use military power to gain its ends, and, since the West is forfeiting its economic trump cards, there seems no logical reason why the Communists should not continue to act arrogantly and to prosecute their "cold war" tactics throughout the world.

The official information is given out here that all this relaxation or trade in strategic articles is due to a decision by the National Security Council and that the action was taken last summer.

This group, headed by the president, conducts its sessions in great secrecy — supposedly to keep the enemy from knowing what is going on.

Evidently the purpose here also was to keep the American people and the entire Congress from knowing that the spirit, if not the letter, of its laws forbidding trade in strategic commodities with aggressors was being flagrantly violated.

It is a distressing chapter in American history, and it is not likely that all members of Congress will accept without vigorous protest the announcement of what appears to be a new surrender to the Communists on the eve of the four-power conference.

Well, We Gotta Learn

Congress Deserves Recognition for Cuts

By Raymond Moley

One of the best of the business letters coming out of Washington tells its subscribers in substance that those who want economy should restrain whatever hopes they may have until long after they hear the Eisenhower budget.

The letter points out that, while the President's budget may show substantial reductions, it is only a request and that Congress has a habit of increasing appropriations above such requests.

The fact that this bit of prediction is not likely to increase business confidence should not weigh against it, if it were true. Businessmen who must plan for the future should be told the truth, however painful it may be.

SO FAR AS a past trend in the present Congress is concerned, the statement is simply not true. Perhaps the writer of the letter means that he guesses that in a session in an election year Congress will be more lavish than the President. If that were his meaning, he should have stated that qualification, but he did not.

In the first session of this Congress, which ended in midsummer, Congress, not the President, was the thrifty member of the Republican "team." Here are the official figures in round numbers. Truman's budget asked for $64,115,00,000. Eisenhower's revised budget reduced that to $54,508,000,000. The House approved $50,581,000,000. The Senate raised that $51,446,000,000. The final House-Senate compromise was $51,072,000,000. And so Congress was $3,436,000,000 more thrifty than the President. If you want the amount that the taxpayer must shoulder, add to each of these figures $7,416,000,000 in permanent appropriations which are more or less mandatory.

THE ONLY MAJOR appropriation bill in which the House of Representatives did not cut the President's requests was in agriculture. In that bill the House added four million dollars.

In the President's address to the nation over television and radio, his advisers provided him with some tricky language which may or may not have been designed to convey the impression that the administration cut the requests off the Truman administration by 13 billion. He said:

"Now, so much for our beliefs and the aims and purposes of this administration. What has been accomplished in the year just past?"

Then there follows a list of things, in which the following appears:

"Requests for new appropriations have been reduced by 13 billion dollars.

Candor and fairness to Congress should have dictated a mention of all the facts at this point. The entire speech, while it hailed at one place the establishment of a "proper working relationship between the executive and legislative branches of the federal government," practically ignored Congress.

The President's advisers and speech writers would have won for him much credit if they had inserted in the speech some slight boost for Congress itself. It is becoming more and more apparent that those advisers and speech writers who with much fanfare traveled down to the golf course to "work" on this speech are entirely in sympathy with those who are constantly belittling Congress and demanding that the President "crack down" on that body.

ONE WOULD think that the President and not Congress will be on trial before the voters this years.

There is little doubt about the sincerity of the President in recognizing the coordinate place of Congress in our system of government. There is also little doubt that these small men around him are not, to use one of their own words, "implementing" that trait in their boss.

It is reported that C. D. Jackson, one of those advisers, is so busy working on the President's speeches that another White House adviser is working on Jackson's speeches. Maybe the President should let Jackson write his own speeches for a change.

Especially Cucumbers

By TRUMAN TWILL

A man's heart may belong to somebody else, but his dislikes are his own. I dislike:

The smell and taste of pork fat;

The appearance of women who smoke cigarets while driving automobiles;

People who do not put newspapers back into shape after reading them;

Adults who talk down to children, as if they were addressing dimwits;

Pencils with hard lead;

Orchestras that fool around with upside down arrangements instead of sticking to the melody;

Party dresses with frou-frou in noticeable quantities;

Store clerks who fake an unnaturally cheerful tone of voice while making small talk with customers;

Anything connected with cucumbers;

Conversationalists who do not know when to drop a subject and let it lie;

Books that have to be pried open to read what's next to the inside margins;

Children who are encouraged to be bold and cocky;

Dogs with no native dignity;

Gloves that fit tightly in the fingers and across the knuckles;

Neckties featuring sloppy instead of neat patterns;

The smell of ether;

Women who spice their conversation with words women do not customarily use;

Anything placed overhead that is low enough to catch a nearly bald passerby by the skin of his head and nearly rip it off;

Eye glasses that do not stay in place no matter what happens;

Politicians who spew out invective with acid-tongued abandon;

Knuckleheads who talk to someone else while theoretically listening to me;

Slide fasteners that need to be buttered up;

Drivers who, having no brains to rely on, rely on the horn to see them through;

Food which has not been salted enough to bring out the savor;

Anyone who wants to talk about his symptoms or her symptoms instead of listening while I talk about my symptoms;

The fad of signing things with initials instead of names;

Any beverage on the borderline of being insipid;

Characters who make scenes in public;

All gadgets, fittings, appliances and tools which baffle me though designed for 10-year-old children;

January bills;

Icy roads;

Winter.

That Old Adventure Urge

By MARK DANA

Two Argentine men have just arrived in our automobile-manufacturing belt in a 40-year-old Model T Ford, in which they claim to have traveled from Tierra del Fuego—the "land of fire" on the southern tip of South America.

Meanwhile, two Britons and an American are setting forth on a car-and-trailer trip from Alaska to Tierra del Fuego, thus at least delighting any Chamber of Commerce possessed by that region put on maps by Magellan.

The Argentine pair has no Hollywood aspirations, but one of the Britons plans to write a book about his pneumatic-cushioned safari.

It is about the right time of year, to be sure. (as what time isn't?) for ideas like this to hatch with men and women grown restless with routine, yearning to get away from it all, flouting the fireside and hurling slippers into the briny.

Some of these urges take the form of sailing small boats across oceans, clambering up defiant peaks, crawling deep in caves, hunting mermaids at fearful distances under the sea surface. Sometimes there is a noble objective, such as to increase scientific knowledge.

Sometimes nobody bothers to think up a reason, but grabs a piton or crouton or baton or whatever it is that mountain-climbers pound into rock cracks for footholds, and hies for yon gale-swept summit, preferably seven miles from the nearest Himalayan yak.

Come spring, and spring fever will flush even more cheeks and sparkle eyes with squirmy longing to go somewhere and tread where no treading was done before. Then is the time for husbands to be extra-solicitous over their wives, the time for wives to be patient if the liege lord of the manor suddenly has a number of sick lodge brothers he must sit up with until the witching hour of 10 or maybe half-past.

Fortunately, few men strike out for Tierra del Fuego, but surely some male or female spouses yearn so to do. It's a nice long distance from the neighbor's children and any unpleasant relatives.

Target Practice

In American journalism the two surest bets are that the quick brown fox will jump over the lazy dog's back in the teletype test sentence and that any article in Life magazine involving an art school will show a lady without her clothes.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Work was no stranger to Hampton Wood, a native of New Jersey where he was born in 1813. His parents were Isaac and Sarah Wood who came to Marion County from Clark County in the spring of 1822. They drove an ox team and brought with them a plow and other farm implements. Hampton Wood began teaching school when he was 21 years old and taught 14 terms. Despite the handicap of lameness he was capable of doing a good day's work. In one season he mowed 30 acres per day; cradled 120 dozen shocks of wheat in a day; split 400 rails in the same time, and, with 10 other hands reaped 480 dozen shocks of wheat with a sickle. His brother, Jeremiah cut 180 dozen stout (shocks) of wheat in a day, requiring a raker and two binders to follow. He could split 200 rails per day easily.

Time Payment, Here I Come

Within a few weeks the New York Stock Exchange will sell common stocks on the time-payment plan. Instructions have gone to the brokers and, beginning January 25, you get your economic suspense on the installment system instead of having to own it outright. This just about completes the easy ownership trend. Everything can be had on time now except the Irish Sweepstakes, the baseball pools and mutuel-window tickets.

The lower brackets' fellow will be able to acquire an apprehensive facial expression now as easily as the rich man. Why follow the stock prices as an outsider when you can get your excitement like those who can afford to pay cash?

After January 25 you will be able to get an interest in a big corporation, go to its stockholders meetings, ask questions and get unsatisfactory answers, with a cut of apple pie, whether you can afford it or not.

The risk is no greater than any other time-payment adventure, nor perhaps as great. They can always take out your icebox, dishwasher or TV set but under the stock-market plan they can't take away your stock. No margin calls, no loss of principal, no sellouts.

Your stock may be worth less per share when you have to sell, but what do you want for your money . . . more money? We can imagine the brokerage office conversation:

"I've come in to buy some stocks."

"With or without enough money?"

"Don't ask me that. It embarrasses us both."

"Do you belong to the low or medium-income group?"

"I am somewhere between the low-income and the where-am-I group. Speaking frankly, I have a salary on which I can buy almost anything I can't afford."

"In other words, you are a typical American ever ready for adventure. Have you ever been over Niagara Falls in a rubber boat?"

"Is that necessary in order that a man may be happy these days?"

"No, but it helps. Just what qualifies you to buy stocks on the time-payment plan?"

"I've got everything including a life raft, first-aid kit, oxygen mask, spirits of ammonia, and a circus net. What's Bethlehem Steel today?"

"You think you'd like Bethlehem?"

"The man next door has some and he's no better than I am. By the way, is it true that the new plan allows for payroll deduction and that I can have the boss take out enough each week to keep me in the market?"

"Yes. You can now get the jitters as easy as your employer."

"Will the boss like it if he knows I am buying stocks? How will he react when I demand more money on a claim I can't get along? Suppose I tell him I must get a raise and he knows I am in General Electric, Eastman Kodak and Union Carbide."

"It could be embarrassing, of course, if you have those stocks at a profit and he is stuck with Federated Meat Balls, North American Nutcrackers and Eastern States Pretzels."

"Maybe it would be better not to arrange for payroll deductions and buy my stocks the same way I buy most things. I don't want to take any chance on the boss firing me through envy of my market position."

"There is one thing I wish to emphasize in all fairness. No man should buy investments on this time-payment plan unless he has checked on his economic situation carefully and found that he can afford to."

"I knew there was a catch in it. You want me to be SENSIBLE!!!"

Ex-burgomaster Impellitterl, defeated for re-election in New York, was immediately named a judge at $19,500 a year and can be retired on a pension of 20 grand in two years. . . . It seems to us it would have been tough luck for him if he had won. . . . To put it in verse:

Lose an election, get the gate—
You'll go high without a wait;
You'll be fixed for life, my lad—
Repudiation ain't so bad!

Automobile accidents in Marion continued to increase last year, reaching a total of 1,168. This figure is almost 100 above the mark set in 1952 when 1,075 mishaps were recorded.

With the exception of 1946 and 1951, the number of accidents in the city has increased steadily for the past 10 years. In 1943, 538 mishaps were reported.

In 1946, there were 10 fewer accidents than during the preceding year, with the total dropping from 742 to 732. Fifty fewer accidents were recorded in 1951 than in 1950, with figures of 1,075 for '50 and 1,025 for 1951.

Lowest number of injuries in the city was recorded in 1944 when 55 persons were hurt. Last year some 134 people were injured.

Fatalities remain low in Marion. Two were recorded in 1953, one a motorcyclist who was struck by a car, and the other a pedestrian who was killed by an on coming train as he can across the tracks.

The 134 injuries reported in 1953 is still below the record of 156 set in 1949. In that year, though, there was only one fatality.

At least one traffic death has been reported in each of the past 10 years.

Below is a table showing the number of traffic accidents for the last 10 years.

The trouble started when union musicians refused to play in several night spots for performers affiliated with the AGVA.

Record Number of Dogs Expected for Show Here

The largest dog show in Marion history is expected at the Coliseum on Jan. 31 when the Marion Kennel Club sponsors its fourth annual all-breed show.

Although entries do not close until Jan. 18, indications are that the number will top last year's record of 691 entries in 81 breeds, Damon Guthery, chairman of the events, reported today.

He added that this year the club is offering more premiums and prizes than ever before.

—:—

MAIN EVENT will be the judging for the best dog in the show. Competing for the title will be the dogs judged as best in the six groups into which the entries will be divided.

Other special attractions at this year's show include the junior showmanship classes and the specialty show of the Scottish Terrier Club of Northern Ohio.

Guthery reported that the club has lined up a panel of 16 widely-known and experienced judges. Heading the list is Thomas H. Carruthers II of Glendale. Carruthers, who is owner of the Hetherington Kennels, has judged best in show at many top shows including the Westminster Show in Madison Square Garden, largest indoor show in the country.

OTHER JUDGES include Kenneth W. Given of Syracuse, N. Y., Haywood R. Hartley of Richmond, Va., Mrs. Warner S. Hays of New York City, Mrs. Winifred L. Heckman of Towson, Md., William E. Henry of Lancaster, Pa., and Mrs. Alva McColl of Toronto, Ont., Canada.

Also judging will be Mrs. Hans Oberhammer of New York City, Mrs. Sara E. Peterman of Philadelphia, Benson H. Rowley of Jersey City, Dr. Frank F. Rubin of Quincy, Mass., Samuel J. Sloan of Glenolden, Pa., and Dr. Henry E. Wedig of Newtown, O.

Judging the junior showmanship classes will be Eddie Bezdek of Allison Park, Pa., Thomas G. Lenfestey of Short Creek, W. Va., and Dick Cooper of Franklin Park, Ill.

THE BOW DOG Show Organization of Detroit is making all the arrangements for the Marion show which will be held under rules and regulations of the American Kennel Club.

Part of the proceeds from the show will go to local and national charities.

In handling the show, Guthery heads a committee composed of C. A. Songer, Sherman Baker, Stan Speer, John Wetzel, Van Ricketts, Tom Myers Sr., Robert Breece and Jack Anderson.

Officers of the 92-member Marion Kennel Club are William Hamor, president; Dr. M. K. Marshall, first vice president; Mrs. William Grieve, second vice president; Harold Baker, treasurer; Mrs. Maxine Anderson, secretary; and Miss Irene Kocsis, corresponding secretary.

Talk on Safety Presented Club By Patrolman

"Accidents don't 'happen,' they are caused," F. E. Scott, representative of the state highway patrol, told members of the Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night. He spoke at a dinner meeting of the club at Hotel Harding in charge of the health and safety committee of which Miss Margaret Messenger is chairman.

In discussing the work of the highway patrol and his experiences with a variety of drivers, he praised women car operators generally but told his audience they have more of a tendency for speeding than do men. He listed speed as first in causes of accidents; second, nonobservance of the restriction of yellow lines on the roadway; and third, failure to yield right of way and to come to a full stop at stop signs. The organization of the Ohio Highway Patrol and comparison of it with the setup in other states, and the drive against the high rate of accidents in Ohio was brought out further in a period for questions by the listeners.

Patrolman Scott was introduced by Miss Messenger. The entire committee was introduced by Miss Mary Martha Luke, president, including besides the chairman, Miss Ruth Kramer, Miss Evelyn McCormick, Mrs. Mary Rogers, Miss Lodemia Weaver, and Mrs. Dolly Wetzel.

Decorating the tables was a variety of toy vehicles, including a train and crossing safety signals on the speakers table. Also on that table was an arrangement of red and white carnations, and red candles completed the setting.

Announcement was made of the annual Employer - Employe Dinner which will be held Fev. 3 at the hotel. A contest for new members, with prizes to be awarded at a Membership Tea in February, was outlined by Miss Luke. The subject of the competition is "Why I Joined the Business and Professional Women's Club." First business meeting for the new year will be held Jan. 20 at the home of Mrs. Rogers.

While Dwight D. Eisenhower is the 34th president of the United States, Richard M. Nixon is the 36th vice president.

MRS. RICHARD EICHHORN

Miss Mary Smith Becomes Bride of Richard Eichhorn

A gown of Chantilly lace, nylon tulle and satin was worn by Miss Mary Jeanne Smith for her marriage to Richard Stuart Eichhorn Sunday afternoon in Trinity Methodist Church, Columbus.

For the ceremony, read at 2:30 o'clock, the chancel was lighted with tapers held in seven-branch candelabra and decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, pompons and chrysanthemums. The pastor, Rev. Dickout, officiated for the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Smith of 163 Sharpless Ct. and Delbert W. Smith of 310 E. Church St. and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eichhorn of Columbus.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was floor-length and worn over the lace bodice was a matching jacket styled with a v-neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The skirt of nylon tulle was paneled with lace on either side. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion was caught to a crown of pearls, sequins and rhinestones and her Colonial bouquet held white roses and stephanotis. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Patricia Dinsmore of Dayton was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Jean Blocksom of Dayton and Miss Nancy Pancaw of Newark. They wore identical gowns of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace fashioned with lace bodices topped with pleated nylon tulle, and accenting the tiny jackets were mandarin collars and cap sleeves. The waltzlength pleated tiered skirts were worn over taffeta and hoops. The maid of honor wore emerald green and the bridesmaids' gowns were in an American Beauty shade. Their tiny hats with half veils were of pleated tulle matching their gowns and their bouquets were white roses, carnations, pompons and chrysanthemums.

Charles P. Eichhorn of Columbus, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and ushers were George Loesch and Eugene Garner of Columbus, Glen Wagner of Hinsdale, Ill., and Richard Wagner of Cleveland.

The wedding music was by Mrs. Phyllis Tipton, organist.

The reception or 200 guests was in the church parlors. Decorations were white chrysanthemums and the table held a three-tiered wedding cake. Hostesses were Mrs. David Cheney and Mrs. Loren Gillespie of Marion, Miss Elaine Swank of Williamstown, Pa., and Miss Kathryn Andrick of Fairborn, a classmate of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a lace dress in a dusty rose shade with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy lace dress, matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

For their wedding trip to Florida the bride wore a suit in a gold shade and matching accessories. They will make their home at 2046 Lane Ave. in Columbus.

The bride was graduated from Harding High School in 1949 and received her B. S. Degree from Ohio State University School of Nursing last month. She is a member of Sigma Theta Tau, national nursing honorary society and is on the staff of University Hospital. The bridegroom attended Ohio Wesleyan University where he affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity and received his B. S. degree from Ohio State University. He is employed with the Industrial Nucleonics Corp. in Columbus.

The bride was complimented with a number of showers before her wedding. On Dec. 9 Miss Pancaw and Miss Dinsmore, former roommates, entertained more than 30 of their classmates at a shower.

The rehearsal dinner was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eichhorn on Saturday evening. Miss Smith gave her attendants initialed gold compacts and Mr. Eichhorn gave the best man and ushers leather billfolds.

Plenty of Opposition in Sight

Ike's Program To Test His Leadership

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today was right in the middle of a fight for the program he laid down yesterday and on which he stakes the success of his Republican party.

On Dec. 2, speaking of November's Congressional elections, Eisenhower said the Republicans did not deserve to retain control of Congress unless they put through a "progressive, dynamic program."

Applause interrupted him 45 times during his 54-minute state of the union message to Congress. And afterwards leaders of his party expressed the usual, expected praise.

Although he made it abundantly clear the message was only an outline of his program, and that he would fill it in rapidly with special messages, a tiny handful of members bitingly dismissed it as a "hodge-podge" full of "platitudes."

But it was the opposition expressed, even by members of his own party, on some major points in his program, that served him full notice he must assert leadership to get it through.

Last year, a period of learning his job and preparing the program he produced yesterday, he may have felt he could afford the compromise on many issues.

This year, if he compromises when the opposition isn't strong enough to defeat him, then he can be accused of abdicating leadership for the sake of being liked.

Last night, as illustration of the fight ahead, he was reported busy in the White House trying to work out a compromise on the proposal of Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit the treaty-making power.

It's not at all clear Eisenhower has to compromise for it is debatable that Bricker has sufficient support to put over his idea if Eisenhower decides to fight him to a standstill.

Two examples of the struggle facing the President came from members of his own party, immediately after the message, on two of the programs most important to him: Farm and taxes.

House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass) said he rather expects the tax program — Eisenhower pledged future tax cuts while asking postponement of scheduled reductions—"is where we will have our biggest difficulty."

He predicted a good part of the program would pass. But when Eisenhower suggested a program of flexible price supports for farmers, instead of fixed ones, he ran into real trouble since feeling on this is so divided.

Eisenhower got his biggest hand from Democrats and Republicans alike when he proposed that Communists convicted of conspiracy to overthrow the government be deprived of citizenship.

If a quick poll had been taken it might have disclosed most members were applauding more because the idea seemed all right at the time than because they understood what they were being asked to do or how to do it.

It isn't clear how Eisenhower thinks his proposal could be carried out if Congress went to work on it.

Since the Constitution says "... persons born in the United States ... are citizens. ..," one of the most highly regarded Constitutional lawyers in the House, Rep. Walter (D-Pa) said: "The President's suggestion couldn't be carried out without a Constitutional amendment.

And Rep. Chauncey W. Reed (R-Ill), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee which would have to handle the problem, said: "How can you take citizenship from a man born here? It can't be done."

New Video Set Should Settle Family Scraps

NEW YORK (AP) — Science has come up with a new type television receiver intended to halt family arguments by presenting two programs at the same time on the same screen.

Dad can watch a boxing bout while mother enjoys a play, or, both can watch an adult program while the children are absorbed with Howdy Doody.

This is accomplished with the use of polarized eyeglasses or polarized glass panels in front of the TV screen.

Known as a "Duoscopic" a dnproduced by the Allen B. Dumont Laboratories, it is essentially two sets in one.

You tune in on any two programs. To the unaided eye, they appear superimposed on the screen. But use of the glasses eliminates one of the pictures. Reverse the glasses and you eliminate the other.

Each set is equipped with eight earphones to give the viewers the sound to go with the program they prefer.

The receiver also can be put to traditional use. By pressing a button it becomes a one program only set, with no glasses or earpieces required.

Present plans call for production of 30 or 40 Duoscopics for demonstration purposes. If they are mass produced they are expected to cost about $600 each.

Local and State Elections Indicate National Trends

By EDWARD K. NELLOR
(North American Newspaper Alliance)

WASHINGTON — Although the political spotlight will be focused on the House and Senate in 1954—with 35 senators and 435 representatives on the voting block—two-thirds of the 48 states will elect new officals this year, including a total of 34 state governors.

Many of the state and local elections occur before the November race for national offices, and may well forecast the results in congressional contests.

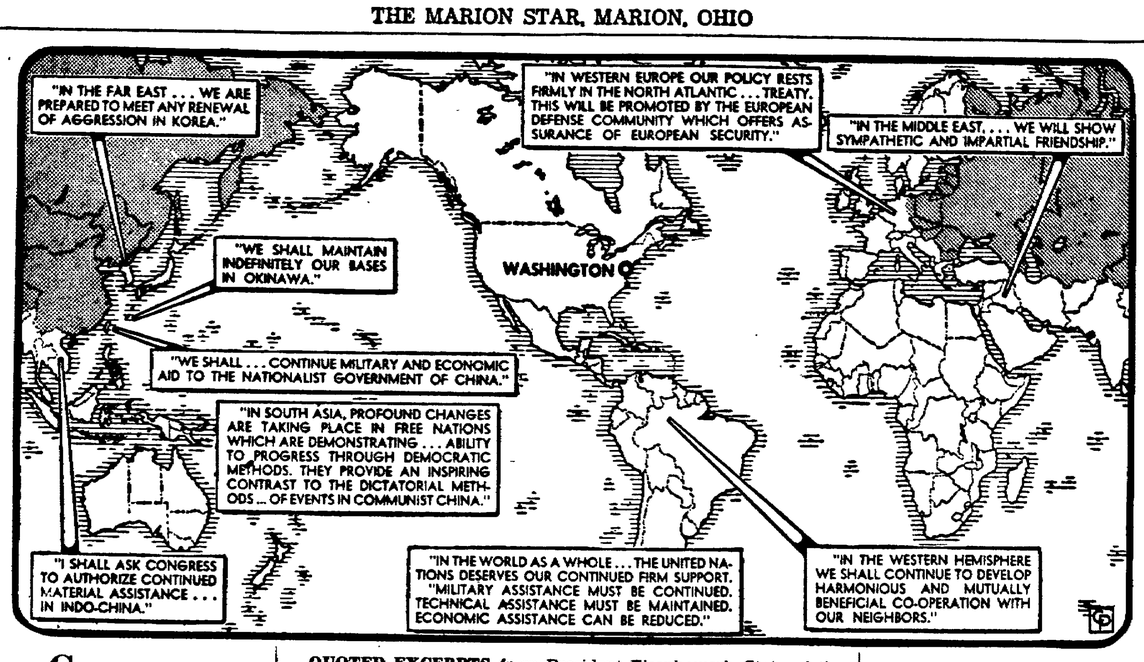
New Hampshire opens the political fracas early in March, when city officials in that state are elected. Illinois follows with a primary scrap on April 13 with New Jersey, Ohio, Alabama, Florida, Indiana and New Mexico following in short order. Maine's general election gets under way on Sept. 13, less than 60 days away from the big race on Nov. 2.

Interest in state and local contests, already abnormally high for Washington, D.C., will grow in intensity this year as the minor political contests occur.

The reason — expressed by experts at both the Republican and Democrat national committees—is that a new administration will be under fire for the first time on a nationwide basis and at grass roots level.

In addition political prognosticators will keep an eye on state legislatures as a sample of the political drift.

Local issues, as usual, will have a strong effect on local elections, but a primary fight with a clear cut contest between pro and anti-Eisenhower politicians will be of nationwide interest. So far, it is too early to see any such contest developing, although the actions of either party in Congress in the next few months undoubtedly will influence local candidates. Republicans, from local to top state levels, will have a tendency to ride on President Eisenhower's coattails, if his program is accepted nationally and Republicans follow through in Congress. If not, he may be the forgotten man temporarily in the political hustings. Either way it will be a forecast of things to come next November, in addition to attracting the earnest attention of politcal leaders here who must make the decisions for their party by the time it faces the voters once again.



QUOTED EXCERPTS from President Eisenhower's State of the Union message to Congress takes you clear around the world.

Hospital

department with employment of Miss Wilma Ball as pharamacist.

ON DEC. 1, work began to establish a larger central supply department. Presently there is a central supply along with two others which serve only surgery and maternity departments. Placing all three in the same department would provide for standardization and would increase efficiency of operation, Miss Tinklepaugh said. Supervisor of this department is to be Mrs. Harrod Geissler, R. N.

These have been the accomplishments so far. Present plans call for a number of other changes. Among these will be the enlargement of existing departments and the establishment of entirely new departments.

The maternity department will be enlarged the most. It will be divided into labor, delivery and patient care and the nursey facilities will be increased. In place of one nursery and one isolation unit as at present there will be an additional nursery for new-born babies, and a new formula room.

OTHER DEPARTMENTS which will be enlarged to meet the greater patient load will be dietary, laundry, housekeeping, general office, admitting and discharge office, X-ray, surgery and public health services.

In place of two operating rooms at City Hospital, General Hospital will contain four with an additional four surgery nurses needed. The X-ray department will be enlarged to contain two diagnostic machines along with a therapy room. Now there is only one diagnostic machine and no therapy room. Included in this department will be a new urological department.

Public health service will include all present clinics with possible addition of others. Present clinics are well-baby, tuberculosis, venereal disease, and cancer. New ones which may be added are dental, orthopedic, and out-patient.

AMONG THE NEW departments planned will be engineering, emergency, and library.

The engineering department will be in charge of O. F. Kemberling, now the supervisor of maintenance. Its duties will be similar to those at present with addition of four licensed firemen to man the high-pressure boilers which will be used to heat the new hospital. Also included will be a painter, carpenter and a plumber.

The new emergency room will be located on the ground floor and will be separated from the surgery department. This will mean additioinal personnel for around-the-clock duty in the emergency room.

The medical library will be new to the hospital staff and will be primarily for use of employes and doctors. Present plans call for it to be a division of the record department.

Among the new services planned will be a recovery room for surgery patients. Following an operation, patients will be taken directly to this room for specialized care until able to return to their wards or rooms. This will be provided by specially trained nurses and nurses aides.

Another new service will be an isolated section for care of the mentally ill while they are awaiting transfer to the state hospital. Presently these patients must be housed in the county jail where proper medical care can not be given them.

STILL OTHER NEW services will include a snack bar and a staff cafeteria — both of which will be divisions of the dietary department. The snack bar will be for the convenience of everyone. The staff cafeteria will provide an eating place for staff members separate from the dietary kitchen for patients.

This all adds up to an increased staff at the new hospital but exactly how much is not now known. "We should have between one and one-half and two employes for each patient or about 300 if we could only find that many qualified persons," Miss Tinklepaugh said.

The present hospital staff includes some 31 registered nurses, 12 of whom are full-time staff nurses, 14 who are relief nurses and five supervisors. There are also 54 nurses aides, four clerks, and five orderlies plus some relief nurses aides and relief clerks, Miss Tinklepaugh said.

Bloodmobile

Blood is still vitally needed, the chairman points out. Among the needs are:

For the sick and wounded veterans who will be requiring blood for many more months until they are finally restored to health, in military hospitals here and abroad.

For Gamm Globulin, a derivative of blood, the new weapon against the paralyzing effect of poliomyelitis. It has also been shown that gamma globulin is effective in preventing the occurance of secondary cases of infectious hepatitus (commonly called yellow jaundice.(As this diease is now understood as a serious and important disease and is very prevalent in Ohio, and in some cases causes a long and fairly serious illness, it is a serious threat to the supply of blood for hospital patients. Consequently there will be a greatly increased demand for this blood fraction.

It is very important that an adequate blood supply be available at the City Hospital at all times, for surgery, and in cases of accident or other emergency.

An adequate blood supply provides for the establishment of the reserve supply of blood derivatives for use in case of enemy attack or other national emergencies.

Congress

social security coverage, advance planning for public works, federal reinsurance for health plans, extended unemployment insurance, long-time housing loans and slum clearance, and federal aid for state school building needs.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa) said the recommendations indicate "the President's firm intention to fulfill all his campaign commitments."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) voiced confidence the President's program would have "overwhelming support, not only of all Reublicans, but all thoughtful Americans as well."

Predicts Enactment

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky) said the President "is assuming the leadership that the people want." He predicted enactment of most of the program.

But Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) found the mesage only "a masteriece of platitudes, thereby raising false hope."

Significantly, perhaps, there was almost no criticism of the President's discussion of foreign policies, on which Secretary of State Dulles supplied additional details in a 2½ hour closed session with the Senate Foreign Relations Commitee after the message was delivered.

Dulles told the senators that both the United States and Russia were having foreign affairs troubles, but added:

"As bad as our troubles are, I wouldn't trade our troubles for theirs."

Defends Proposal

Dulles defended the proposal to withdraw two divisions from Korea, explaining that additional South Korean troops are being trained. He was quoted as saying the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) is "in good shape."

Sen. Clements (D-Ky) said he sees in the President's speech approval of "the foreign policy which the Democrats developed" and he hopes Republicans now would support the President, especially in continuing and expanding the reciprocal trade program.

But plenty of controversy was brewing in that field, as it was learned a presidential commission plans to recommend shortly further tariff cuts, carefully safeguarded. Many GOP lawmakers have been urging higher import duties on some items.

One administration headache in the field of foreign relations persisted, the controversial amendment proposed by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit treaty-making powers. President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles, and other executive and legislative leaders met yesterday with Bricker seeking a compromise acceptable to him and the administration. But the senator said afterwards they "reached no agreement and nothing definite was accomplished."

The President's proposal for wiping out the citizenship of convicted spies was described by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) as "half-baked" and Chairman Langer (R-ND) of the Senate Judiciary Committee said he couldn't see where it "adds anything to present law."

Although the Senate committe gave no signs of doing anything about that request, Langer said he would press for action Jan. 18 on a proposed Constitutional amendment to give 18-year-olds the vote.

The President's farm proposals —outlined only in objectives, with detail sto come Monday — got a frigid reception.

Sen. Young (R-ND) called the President's proposals for sliding-scale price supports "the same old story." Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) said "they won't get anywhere."

Three Drivers Fined For Traffic Violations

Three drivers were fined a total of $45 and costs when they pleaded guilty in Municipal Court today to various traffic charges filed against them by city police.

Those arrested, the charges and fines were John Kayatin, 43, of 417 Oak St., speeding, $15 and costs; Albert W. Zachariah, 25, of near Kenton, speeding, $15 and costs; and William R. Kelley, 37, of Marion, failure to register a motor vehicle, $15 and costs. Only other traffic arrest reported today by police was Carl L. Bently, 22, of near Marion who posted a bond for his appearance in court Monday on a speeding charge.

Defends Self on Spy Probes

Truman Claims He Never Originated 'Red Herring'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Harry Truman, defending his efforts to combat Communist subversion, said today he never used the words, "red herring," to describe Congressional spy hunts.

Truman's statement was made in a film for television showing, an interview with Drew Pearson, the Washington columnist Truman once called an "S. O. B."

Referred to His Case

The "red herring" incident occurred at a Truman news conference on Aug. 5, 1948. It was on that day that Alger Hiss, a former State Department official, swore before the House Un-American Activities Committee that he had never been a member of the Communist party.

Hiss was convicted later on charges of falsely swearing that he had never given secret information to the Reds. He is now serving a five-year prison sentence.

Pearson asked Truman in the interview: "There has been a lot of talk about you saying that the Alger Hiss indictment was a red herring. What is the fact on that?"

Truman replied:

"The facts in the case are that in a press conference one morning, some young man who had never been at a press conference before, during the session of the 80th Congress, asked me if the action of the Un-American Activities Committee was not in the form of a red herring to cover up what the Republican administration in the 80th Congress had not done, and I said it might be.

'Never Made Statement'

"And that's where it started. I never made any statement that there was a red herring although the Republicans when they are in power always try to cover up their mistakes by attacking somebody or some institution."

Pearson interposed: "So you never even used the word, 'red herring.' That was the word used by the reporter and you said that it might be that Congres was trying to cover up something."

Truman replied: "That's right. That's correct. The press conference itself will show that."

An unofficial transcript of the news conference shows that this question was put to Truman: "Mr. President, do you think the Capitol Hill spy hearings are a good thing or do you think they are a red herring to divert attention from the anti-inflation program?"

Truman replied that he agreed with the latter view.

Permits Quote

Afterwards, Truman was asked whether he might be quoted directly.

The unofficial transcript gives this as Truman's reply: "Yes, you can quote me . . . They are using this as a red herring to keep from doing what the ought to do."

Veteran Washington reporters said the "red herring" question was put to Truman in 1948 by Harold Stacy a reporter for the Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch. They said they could not recall that Stacy ever asked any other questions at a news conference.

In Columbus, Stacy said "x x x The question was entirely spontaneous on my part. I recall that veteran reporters at the White House had asked only routine questions during the first part of it. There had been nothing at all on the investigations getting under way on Capitol Hill.

"Fearing the conference might break up with the usual 'Thank you, Mr. President,' without any comment, I asked the question which Mr. Truman now disputes as becoming, by his authorization, his own statement regarding the Communists-in-government issue. As I recall the circumstances, it was the last question of the conference and the only one that brought a reply that made big headlines."

Questioned by Pearson about the loyalty program under his administration, Truman said 490 persons were dismissed on loyalty grounds and some 6,400 were separated or resigned or were denied employment "because they were security risks."

President Eisenhower said in his State of the Union message yesterday that 2,200 persons have been discharged under his administration's security program.

step involving a measure of allegiance to another country.

And in 1952 Congress passed a law to take citizenship from persons who do such things as vote in foreign elections or who are convicted of treason or an attempt at forcible overthrow of the United States. Thus the only new element involved in Eisenhower's request would be to add conspiracy to teach forcible overthrow.

The President drew the most thunderous applause in his 54-minute report on the state of the union to Congress yesterday when he declared:

"I recommend that Congress enact legislation to provide that a citizen of the United States who is convicted in the courts of hereafter conspiring to advocate the overthrow of this government by force or violence be treated as having, by such act, renounced his allegiance to the United States and forfeited his United States citizenship."

Police Sale Postponed

A scheduled sale of various unclaimed lost and found and stolen articles at 1 p.m. tomorrow afternoon was postponed indefinitely today by Marion Police Chief Tom Coon.

Reason for the postponement, he said, is it must be held outdoors and present inclement weather prohibits such a sale at this time. A new date will be determined later, he said.

Three Uniforms Stolen

He said the uniforms, of the type worn by service station attendants, were taken sometime after Tuesday, possibly Tuesday night.

Taxes

took effect Jan. 1. Administration sources said it was dropped because of a forthcoming program of higher benefits.

Ways and Means Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), who waged a spectacular battle against administration tax policy last year, said he was "delighted" at the President's full support for a tax revision program now being developed by the committee and the Treasury.

This program is expected to reduce revenue about $1,300,000,000 through a rewriting of the tax laws to remove alleged inequities.

But Reed already has served notice he favors excise tax cuts and will strongly oppose extending the present top corporation income tax rate of 52 per cent. It is scheduled to drop to 47 per cent on April 1.

Reed Promises Action

Tersely, Reed said: "Those matters will receive the attention of our committee as soon as its work on the revision program permits." That was expected to be weeks away, perhaps leaving little time to cancel the scheduled cuts before April 1.

There were indications Reed would support the excise tax slashes to 10 per cent mentioned Simpson, who played a bit part in pushing through the administration's tax program last year.

Bringing all excises except liquor and tobacco down to 10 per cent reportedly would cost 940 million dollars in revenue. The scheduled automatic excise cuts would cost only 160 million more.

Under the proposal Simpson mentioned, the new 10 per cent rate would apply to furs, jewelry, cosmetics, luggage, women's handbags, all admissions, photographic equipment, light bulbs and safe deposit boxes (all now taxed at 20 per cent); to lighters, pens, mechanical pencils, local telephone calls and personal transportation (all now 15 per cent); and to long-distance telephone calls (now 25 per cent).

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the Senate Finance Committee said he was encouraged by Eisenhower's assurance of further tax reductions as finances permit.

Sen. George (Ga), senior Democrat on the Finance Committee, suggested a compromise at a 50 per cent corporation income tax rate—an idea also widely supported by ways and means members.

Lodge Discusses New Labor Group

The newly formed Labor United organization in Marion was the main topic for discussion at a meeting of Roosevelt Lodge 1281, International Association of Machinists, AFL held last night at the union hall.

Charles Curran, secretary, said members of the lodge were enthusiastic about the new organization and felt it would serve a definite need of all labor unions in the city.

The new organization is mainly for the purpose of promoting greater cooperation among the various labor groups, particularly from the standpoint of civic functions such as campaigns for donations to charity organizations, he said. It also is to promote understanding between the various unions to each other's problems and create greater friendship between them. Curran said. All AFL, CIO and independent unions in the city are eligible for membership, according to Curran.

But Truman administration espousal of permanent high level supports in 1952 led many Republicans to join Democrats in extending the high supports through the 1954 crop year.

Police, Patrol Report Seven Auto Mishaps

Accidents in Marion Include 2 Hit-Skips; None Involves Injury

Six minor traffic accidents including two hit-skips were investigated during the last 24 hours by Marion police. Only one minor accident was reported on county roads by the state highway patrol.

About 12:20 p.m. yesterday, a hit-skip car struck the car of Miss Rhea King parked in front of her residence at 207 Johnson St. Police said the left side of the parked car was smashed. Only clue to the identity of the hit-skip car was some yellow paint left on Miss King's car. The hit-skip car was thought to be traveling south on Johnson St., police reported.

No details of the other hit-skip accident were available. It was reported to police by Raymond Steinkamp of 547 N. Main St. who said the rear fender of his car was damaged but could not say when or where the accident happened. He reported it to police yesterday afternoon.

There was slight damage to cars driven by Carle Edward Slack, 25, of 126 Klerx St. and Ray M. Snyder, 58, pf 853 E. Church St. when they were involved in a mishap at E. Church and S. Main Sts. at 4:55 p.m. yesterday.

The left front fender of a car parked in front of his residence and owned by Richard Bechtle of 622 E. Geroge St. was damaged when struck by a car driven by Richard A. Buck, 16, of 584 E George St. The accident occurred at 9:42 p.m. yesterday. Buck told police his car skidded on icy pavement into the parked car.

A car driven by Ransome R Williams, 28, of 569 Summit St and a truck driven by Kenneth E. Baer, 31, of 216½ N. Main St. were involved in a mishap in front of 569 Summit St. at 10 a.m. yesterday. Both vehicles were damaged police said.

The right rear fender of a car driven by Flem Gamble, 30, of 718 E. Goerge St. and the left front of a city bus driven by James R. Baker, 26, of 260 Latourette St. were damaged in an accident in the 100 block on E. Center St. at 4:14 p.m. yesterday, police said.

Auto and Truck Collide

One accident in which no one was injured was reported today by state patrolmen from the Marion post. It happened on U. S. Route 23, two-tenths of a mile north of the Marion corporation limits at 11:30 p.m. Thursday.

Involved were a tractor-trailer outfit driven by Lee Roy Gallimore, 30, of Winston Salem, N. C., and a car driven by Hayden K. Bloomfield, 23, of Bocyrus. Both were headed north. Bloomfield was attempting to make a left turn into a private drive at the same time Gallimore tried to pass.

Patrol reports show the two vehicles went off the highway on the west side after the collision. The radiator, right front fender, and bumper of the tractor outfit were damaged, while the left rear fender and panel and left front door of the car were damaged.

Bloomfield was issued a citation to appear in Municipal Court Monday to answer a charge of making an improper left turn.

South American Will Teach Adult Class in Spanish

The controversial Spanish class, one of 33 courses being offered this year in the Marion Adult Education program will feature a very authentic touch.

Instructing the Spanish enthusiasts will be Carlos Cattani, from Quito, Ecuador, South America, who is presently employed at the Marion Industries, Division of Motor Products Corp. Last year, he assisted with instruction of the Spanish class.

Kenneth Kinsler, manager of the Marion Rural Electric Co-op Inc., will teach the basic electricity course, which is slated to start at a later date, Feb. 2. The course will feature 60 hours of instruction.

So far, 275 persons have registered for the night class program which will open Jan. 19 and 21. Emil J. Lisak, director of trades and industries at Harding High School and chairman of the program, says that at least 300 are expected to sign.

Late enrollments in classes which still have vacancies will still be accepted next week. Arrangements can be made by phoning Mr. Lisak at 2-0235.

Detroit with suitable intermediate stops."

Bray reported this morning that probably no decision would be made for at least several months. The Ohio aviation board has recommended to the CAB that it hold off any decision until a further study can be made. State universities in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan are now making a study of local air service in the tri-state area.

Bray added that he expects the hearings in Columbus to continue through today and possibly into next week. However, representatives from Marion are not expected to make another appearance.

Bray pointed out this morning that none of the three proposed routes would stop at Marion He added, however, that any one of the three would benefit Marion by offering additional connections out of Columbus.

Marion is backing the Lake Central route, he said, because it offers local service both north and south. The Piedmont route would offer only southern connections and it is felt that a trunk line such as Eastern could not provide as good connections as could a feeder line such as Lake Central.

Rice B. Potter, director of the Parkersburg Chamber of Commerce, and Roger H. Copeland, president of the Marietta Chamber of Commerce, carried the fight for their cities.

Isolation Cited

They said their cities are 'so isolated from Columbus and Charleston" that any service which "will get us to both cities would be very satisfactory."

Marietta and Parkersburg are served by the six-million-dollar Wood County, W. Va., airport—four miles from Marietta and eight from Parkersburg.

Potter said Marietta-Parkersburg residents made 6,300 telephone calls to Charleston and 4,400 to Columbus last October.

During the same month, he continued, 628 persons from Columbus, 119 miles away, registered in Marietta and Parkersburg hotels. Yet, Potter said, less than one person a day arrived at Wood County Airport by plane from either Columbus or Charleston.

He said train service to Columbus takes 8½ hours through Cincinnati and 21 hours through Wheeling, W. Va.

Represents Toledo

Representing Toledo were three businessmen—John A. Faller, general traffic manager of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co.; Edward L. Perse, transportation department manager of the Toledo Chamber of Commerce, and Richard E. Knudson, assistant to the general traffic manager of Owens-Illinois Glass Co.

All three favor the Eastern Airlines plan. Faller, whose firm has a plant near Parkersburg, also supported the Piedmont proposal.

Ohio Aviation Director C. E. A. Brown said the state aviation board is against having the same airline provide trunk and feeder service.

Local service lines should not be permitted to compete with long haul lines and long haul lines should not be permitted to "skim off the cream" of local services, he said.

Lima For Lake Central

The cities of Lima, Bryan and Defiance, in testimony Wednesday before CAB Examiner William J. Madden, gave their unqualified support to Lake Central's service to and through their cities in the Charleston - Columbus-Detroit segment.

A committee of four representing the business interests and the city of Lima stated that they felt Lake Central could best serve the scheduled air transportation of the city of Lima. Frank Hackman, research director of the Lima Association of Commerce, testified to the authenticity of the written exhibits presented for consideration of Examiner Madden.

Walter Plezia, Lima Airport manager, outlined the current airport facilities and charter activity at at the airport and Roger Andrews city solicitor for Lima, who was speaking on behalf of the Lima City Council and Chamber of Commerce, made the formal endorsement of Lake Central as the best qualified airline to fulfill Lima's north-south airline transportation needs.

Rickenbacker Bids For Eastern Route

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eastern Airlines, Inc., through its board chairman, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, today made a strong bid to supply Toledo, Columbus and Charleston, W. Va., with trunk line air service.

Rickenbacker, a native of Columbus, and World War I ace, testified before William J. Madden, a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner. Eastern proposes Columbus and Toledo be placed on its north-south trunk lines linking Detroit, Charleston and southeastern cities.

"Eastern's proposal is far more advantageous to the public than any other proposal," Rickenbacker said, "Eastern will provide the best new service and the most of it. Our first, foremost and primary concern is that Toledo, Columbus and Charleston receive the trunk line service which they deserve and require.

What Goes?

By Victor Riesel

The wrong kind of history is repeating itself around President Eisenhower. And I respectfully submit that despite the enormous pressures on him at the moment, the Chief Executive take time out to discover which of his trusted advisers, in or out of the White House, are entangling him in this weird series of events.

RIESEL

Five times now, someone has tried to jockey Mr. Eisenhower into providing cover and prestige, and power, for some of the toughest mobs operating inside labor. Five times they came close because of the confusion of the early days and the President's understandable lack of intimate knowledge of the intricacies within America's powerful unions.

Now that mysterious someone is trying again. Because he, or they, are either tremendously uninformed or malicious, here is the story:

It began in the early days of Gen. Eisenhower's campaign.

SOMEONE GOT UP a GOP labor advisory list. On it were members of a bloc inside the AFL construction trades which today is giving AFL President George Meany one his worst headaches on this labor front.

Most of these so-called labor men were, and still are, "protected" by the tough Brooklyn mobs hanging over from the days of Murder, Inc. However, they were brushed off in their first attempt.

Then, a few minutes after Mr. Eisenhower was informed that he had won the election and was on his way down to New York's Hotel Commodore Grand Ballroom to thank his campaign workers, someone got one of the Joe Fay crowd planted near him as "the representative of labor."

Only fast action prevented pictures of this man and Ike together then.

Still later, the President - elect was told it would be a nice gesture to pose with a labor group "which had supported him", and he did go to show his appreciation. Actually they had done nothing for him—and they are tough and will soon enough be exposed, after current investigations are completed.

Then someone suggested that he name a friend of convicted extortioner Joe Fay to his cabinet.

THIS FRIEND was AFL Construction Trades chief Dick Gray, who made the round of congressmen in an effort to get them to pressure Gov. Dewey into releasing the big time labor racketeer. FBI information stopped Gray's appointment.

Now we find that someone in the group which is advising President Eisenhower on his special labor message to Congress is preparing to have the President urge Congress to exempt the construction trades unions from a section of the Taft-Hartley law. This is the section which gives hundreds of thousands of construction workers the right to vote for unions of their own choosing.

Once before, in the writing of those controversial 19 points last September, this was tried — but again failed.

This "exemption" is being written into the special message even as the first among 19 AFL construction trades leaders indicted across the country are being tried on charges of having violated the federal anti-racketeering laws.

One batch is being tried in St. Louis right now. The first to be heard is an unproletarian gent who is charged with selling labor "harmony" at considerably above cost-of-living prices, like $50,000 a throw. He, of course, wasn't averse to taking sums as low as $400 until conditions improved.

THIS GENTLE proletarian leader is Paul Hulahan, who is under an eight-count indictment for attempting to extort over $102,000 from three contractors. Hulahan is a lad of many talents, however. He is a defendant in a $50,000 liquor hi-jacking case, charged with holding up a truck on a St. Louis county road on Nov. 10, 1952.

He carries a loaded gun, runs a tavern and "is arrested frequently in labor disputes." Two of Hulahan's colleagues will be among the missing—having been blasted from here to eternity not too long ago.

Another of those indicted—one of 17 in St. Louis, is Leo F. Havey of the Bricklayers Union, charged with threatening violence on a seven million dollar veterans hospital "in furtherance of a plan and purpose to obstruct, delay, and affect commerce," by preventing Negro and non-resident bricklayers from working there.

In Springfield, Ill., a Jack Green, of the Hod Carriers Union, has been indicted by a grand jury. Testimony revealed that "goon squads" of 70 to 1,000 were used to delay a vital government job.

MARTIN DURKIN of the Steamfitters and Plumbers Union has now moved to clean up some of his locals. The Iron Workers have suspended regional leaders near atomic installations.

Federal probes are digging into construction trades unions in several states.

AFL president George Meany is eager to clean these up, too.

Leaders of the crusading AFL International Assn. of Machinists have been fighting this crowd — and could be shoved out of plants and projects by the hoods if some of the construction trades outfits can simply go to a contractor and say, before a shovel digs in, that thousands to be hired on the job must automatically be theirs — without NLRB elections.

Yet that's exactly what some of Ike's advisers are planning to have him say to Congress. What goes here?

FBI Files

By George Sokolsky

It is only natural that the subversives, spies, Communists, fellow - travelers and those officials who by misfeasance or neglect permitted them to enter the govenment and remain there should do everything to protect themselves. They have a vested interest in the elimination of the Jenner and McCarthy committees, which have only scratched the surface of infiltration by Kremlin agents.

SOKOLSKY

For instance, by accident, the McCarthy committee moved into Fort Monmouth and discovered a nest of subversion and espionage organized by Julius B. Rosenberg.

The difficulty in this investigation is that corroborative information is hard to get. While espionage is so clear as to be on the surface, the investigators are practically shut off from getting at further data when the spy pleads the Fifth Amendment.

THE PLEA of the Fifth Amendment is made without regard to fitness. The Senate, to uphold the dignity of the Constitution, ought to cite several of these witnesses and their lawyers for contempt.

Some lawyers have become specialists in depriving the United States of its defenses against espionage and it would appear to a layman that this is an impropriety.

The latest defensive measure of the subversives and their associates is to propose the abolition of the experienced committees of the Senate and the House in this field, the Jenner committee, the McCarthy committee and the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and to substitute in their place a commission appointed by the president.

Experience has shown that several committees are essential so that if one committee becomes inactive or is bogged down in politics, another exists to act.

For instance, what is now the McCarthy committee, the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations of the Committee on Government Operations, was totally inactive until Sen. McCarthy became its chairman. The field is so broad, no one committe could cover it all.

THE PROPONENTS of this commission idea advocate that it, being appointed by the president, have access to all files, including those of the FBI. No congressional committee has ever claimed or obtained that right. It is doubtful if the Congress will ever grant it.

Thus far, the use of files is at the discretion of the president and the Department of Justice.

Nothing would please the subversives more than for them to lay their hands on FBI files. All they would need would be to put one girl into such a committee—a clever Communist operative and she would steal every document in those files, just as Julius Rosenberg stole the atom bomb.

Before Congress granted such authority to any committee, it ought to put Elizabeth Bentley on the witness stand to tell how her operatives stole documents from every department of government, except the FBI. Or they might get from Igor Gouzenko the story of how a close assistant to Secretary of State Stettinius provided Kremlin agents with valuable data.

Does Gouzenko refer to Alger Hiss? Up to now, he has said that he did not know the name of that agent. But Elizabeth Bentley, Hede Massing, and Whittacker Chambers did know the name.

ANY RAID of FBI files by any committee of Congress or any presidential commission would be harmful to America and should be opposed actively and effectively.

In this connection, I wish to call attention to "The Rosenberg Case," by Rabbi S. Andhil Fineberg of the American Jewish Committee.

While Rabbi Fineberg does not give a definitive study of the trial, he does tell all you need to know about the Rosenbergs, their espionage, the trial and the vast anti - American propaganda machine that was established to use this incident to harm our country.

This book is excedingly valuable and should have the widest circulation.

A full record of the Rosenberg Case, as an example of espionage, of which there have been many instances, wholly justifies the existence of these three competitive committees, and many more.

The trick proposal to get at the FBI files by means of a presidential commission needs to be watched. It is so impudent a proposal that it seems unbelievable; yet it is being made in all seriousness, and with ADA support. They never stop. Should we?

Sense of History

By Laura Hobson

"One picture's worth 10,000 words," they say but at times pictures give you only the surface of the truth.

HOBSON

We've all seen 10,000 pictures of our nation's capitol, of its noble white dome, of the Congress met in joint session at moments like Thursday's State of the Union address by President Eisenhower.

But the pictures can't give you the secret quiver that goes through you when for the first time you actually walk through the doors of Congress and feel, this is the core, the heart.

YOU THINK of all the great moments that have begun here, the good ones and the terrible, you see faces you've looked at in your daily paper and on newsreel and TV screens, and suddenly they're not just photographs but men.

You notice things no picture ever gave you, details, the small unimportant human details that touch off memories and ideas.

I went in at the Senate side; at my right was a small elevator with a lighted sign above it, "senators only." The letters ran across an oblong panel of ground glass; they could be switched off and other letters lighted, to say "closed."

-:-

INSTANTLY I thought of airplanes and the "fasten seat belts" sign that lights up for take-offs and landings, or when a wall of black thunderhead looms up in the sky ahead.

I turned to the elevator at my left; here too was a lighted glass sign, saying, "SB, B, F, G," which decipher to mean sub-basement, basement, floor and gallery.

You notice things: the marble floor was like faded mosaic, with interlocking white circles enclosing what looked like five-leaf clovers in a field of blue and copper red.

"Lucky to be here," I thought. "It's corny to be so thrilled, but who could help it?"

Maybe my mental images of the Senate chamber have all been in black and white, but my first view of its color and beauty and dignity took me by complete surprise.

ALL AROUND the great room are columns of dark red Vermont marble, polished and shining, their white markings brilliantly clear.

The carpet repeats the same colors in a small-scaled pattern, and there's vigorous red-brown again in the 96 gleaming mahog. any desks at which the senators sit.

Just 25 minutes later, the short formal ceremonial was over. What no photograph or painting can truly give you is the largest thing you find in that room, the sense of history. The whole past, and a lot of the future.

Labor Leader Goes on Trial For Perjury

CINCINNATI (AP)—Opening statements by attorneys and hearing of first witnesses were scheduled today for the trial in U.S. District Court of E. Melvin Hupman, Dayton labor leader charged with perjury.

Hupman is charged with having committed perjury when he signed a Taft-Hartley law non-Communist affidavit.

A jury of eight men and four women was selected yesterday after Judge John H. Druffel repeatedly overruled defense efforts to have jurors excused because they had read an account in the Cincinnati Enquirer of Wednesday's proceedings.

Marshall Perlin of New York, a defense attorney, claimed the Enquirer story showed "bias and prejudice."

Judge Druffel held, however, the story was only an account of the court proceedings. Jurors questioned also said they had not been influenced by the story.

Perlin objected particularly to a paragraph which referred to the fact Hupman was tried previously at Dayton on the same charge. The jury disagreed at that trial.

One of Weirdest Spots

Venezuela Forest: Naturalists' Heaven

By THOMAS R. HENRY
Science Editor, North American Newspaper Alliance

WASHINGTON — One of earth's weirdest regions is the "shrouded forest."

It is the bat-filled jungle that covers large areas of the seaward slopes of Venezuela's maritime Andes. Throughout this dense forest a strange white mist rises from the moisture-soaked earth to envelop everything like a shroud.

—:—

THIS SHROUDED FOREST is without human inhabants, but it has an extremely rich animal life —gigantic spiders spinning monstrous webs in its liana-laced trees, deadly serpents such as the mapanare and green cock, sloths, many varieties of new world monkeys, brilliantly colored hummingbirds and parrots and mountain lions.

It is, like all dense jungle, a dark and sunless place of oppressive silence during the day, for its denizens, living by the jungle's inexorable law of tooth and claw, avoid drawing attention to themselves by any sound. When night falls the forest teems with millions of black and gray bats many of which, like the hummingbirds, seek flowers with the richest nectar rather than insects which are the ordinary prey of their kind.

Under the shade of the giant trees grow all sizes of ferns, from tiny varieties to some which reach the height of a two-story house. Orchids of all colors are plentiful in the treetops.

This jungle is a paradise for naturalists and collectors. It still is only partly explored and may be expected to yield many still unknown varieties of plants and animals, although probably all the more conspicuous and fantastic types have been described. Among the most notable of the naturalist-explorers of this region was the former U. S. Department of Agriculture scientist, Swiss-born Henry Pittier, who spent the last 37 years of his life in Venezuela. Pittier, who died in 1950, became one of his adopted country's greatest scientists.

IN HIS HONOR the Venezuelan government has just set aside a large tract of the shrouded jungle as a wild preserve and national park. Under this arrangement it will be preserved perpetually as a part of the primaeval jungle for the benefit of naturalists from all over the world who have been invited to carry out researches there.

The 210,000-acre Henry Pittier National Park straddles the coastal range for a distance of 32 miles. It extends down to the sea and includes part of the large fresh-water Lake Valencia. The area may be divided into three sections—park-like forest on top of the mountains, thick jungle on the slopes, and wasteland on the plains near the sea. It includes areas of swordgrass covered savanna, thorn woodland and cactus scrub. The shrouded jungle, however, is the place of greatest scientific interest.

Marion city firemen were called out to a fire scare early today at the Robert A. Taft Junior High School on N. State St.

Central and Mark St. station firemen answered the alarm at 12:50 a.m. today when neighbors saw flames from some salamanders being used by the Knowlton Construction Co. to speed the drying of concrete and mortar in the new addition to the school. There was no fire and no loss, firemen said.

Mink Fascinating, Fur Tycoon Finds

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Col. Frank C. Gothier is a mink-made man.

"I never inherited a penny in my life," said the colonel, who is perhaps the only man in America who wears a mink coat and also owns 9,000 live mink, 400 hogs, 1,400 acres of Iowa bottomland and a Colorado gold mine.

"Of course, it's just an old gold mine," he explained modestly. "I bought it for the taxes on it.

"I suppose there are any number of people who own gold mines. But the only other fellow I ever heard of who had his own mink coat was that Russian they called Rasputin. After he got himself killed the Russian government sent his coat over here, and it sold for $2,200, although it was 25 years old."

To the colonel this is sound proof that a mink coat wears better than a Russian political figure.

Gothier, a stalwart 6-foot 3 man of 65, is the dean of U.S. mink ranchers and a pioneer in the breeding of new fur types.

"Mink have fascinated me all my life," said the colonel, who came here to sell 2,000 pelts. "I trapped 'em as a boy near my home at Anthon, Iowa.

"I had a good home, but I left it at 12 because the farm was too small an operation for a family of seven.

"I wanted to be independent and make my own way. So I went out to South Dakota and rode the range before they even had a railroad. When I married, I figured that was no life for a married man so I came back to my old home town, took a small piece of land and settled down."

In 1916 Gothier, whose life is a fur-lined romance, began breeding mink, but didn't make a dollar out of them for 17 long years. He made the farm pay his living and the cost of his breeding/experiments.

He became one of the nation's best known fur judges and a top auctioneer. His title of colonel, conferred by the State of Iowa, is a tribute to his work at more than 1,000 auctions.

"My dream was always to create a better mink," he said. "Over the years I cross-bred six species of American mink and five species from Alaska and Canada. I've produced mink in 12 different colors.

"Right now I'm interested in white mink and buff mink, because they're new. I always like to do something new. I get one white mink out of every 16 I produce.

"I've been told several times this is impossible because it violates the Mendelian laws of heredity. But my mink never heard of the law. You never can tell what a mink will do."

The colonel wears a hat made of wild jackrabbit fur.

"We feed the mink wild jackrabbits by the ton," he explained. "We also feed 'em horsemeat, herring, buttermilk, cereals, yeast and tomato juice."

The mink respond to this nourishing diet by being amazingly cooperative in the colonel's breeding experiments. A mink born in May will produce an average litter of four kits one year later. But except for those kept to re-stock the herd, the mink born in May are electrocuted and pelted the following December.

"I don't know of any animal that grows so fast," said the colonel.

The mink have an all-around value in peace and war. Their fur is made into fine garments to clothe lovely ladies. Their carcasses are ground into tankage and fed to hogs. Their grease is made into glycerine and winds up in high-explosive shells.

More Training for Civil Defense Units Advocated

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The nation's civil defense workers are doing a "good job" in defense preparations, but not good enough to meet the emergency of an atomic attack.

That was the warning voiced yesterday by Val Peterson, civil defense administrator. He said millions of American lives could be saved and vast amounts of property salvaged in an atomic attack if U. S. cities had well trained civil defense units.

Auto Body Plant Opened

James Farley of 597 E. Church St. today announced the opening of a complete automobile body and paint service shop at the rear of 760 Bellefontaine Ave. He has had seven years experience in the auto body business.

Electric Push-Button To Save Money

Voting Made Easy for Members of Ohio Assembly

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Representatives in Ohio's 100th General Assembly expect to use push-button voting for the first time at the special highway session opening Monday.

Workmen have been busy since November installing some 25 miles of wiring beneath the House floor so the law-makers can vote by pressing buttons at their desks.

Illuminated boards on north and south walls of the House chamber will record their votes. A green light in front of their names will be a "yes" vote. A red light after their names will signify "no."

House Speaker William Saxbe of Mechanicsburg will control the intricate electrical voting system similar to those used by 28 other states.

When Saxbe presses a button after voting has been completed and the system "locked," a recording device will show the total on a perforated sheet. The device will punch as many sheets as needed after each vote. The "scoreboards" on the walls also will display the totals for members and gallery spectators to see.

House Clerk Carl Guess of Carrollton, a former representative, said the new system will put the House on a more business-like basis and heighten the interest of spectators in the legislative process.

He estimated the time saved by eliminating tedious roll calls would cut from six to eight weeks from regular sessions every two years. Guess figured that could save about $15,000 a week in mileage allowed members for trips between their home and Columbus.

Each roll call averages eight minutes for a total of about 66 hours during a session. The House meets about two hours a day during sessions, which would mean 33 days of roll calls. With four daily meetings a week, that would figure out to eight legislative weeks of roll calls.

Legislators could vote on a bill in 10 seconds' under ideal conditions with the new push button system, Guess claimed.

Because the Senate has only 33 elected members, no electric voting or microphone system was installed in the upper house, officials said.

While the House floor was torn up, workmen installed a loud speaker network providing microphones between every other desk. That, Guess explained, will permit every member to be heard throughout the big chamber while making a speech without leaving his desk.

Only a half dozen microphones previously were available for speeches and those who disdained to use them often could not be heard clearly.

The electric voting system marks another first for the 100th General Assembly. It met during Ohio's sesquicentennial year in air conditioned comfort for the first time. House and Senate chambers and the legislative hearing rooms and offices were equipped with an automatic cooling and heating system before the last session.

The Legislature appropriated $10,000 for the new voting system, but officials expect it to cost much less.

The International Roll Call Corp., Richmond, Va., installed the system for $15,000 and will charge $5,000 a year for maintenance. The Legislature can purchase the system within four years for $82,000 if members like it. Advance payments will count toward the purchase price, officials said.

Only the voting "scoreboards" and desk buttons are visible in the new system. The complicated control "brain" is housed in a storage closet off the House floor.

Ohio had $25,000 cut from its contract price, officials said, because installers did not need to run a cascade of wires to the basement where most control panels are located in other Legislatures.

They said Indiana bought its voting system outright for $110,000 and pays $8,000 a year for maintenance.

HIPPO DECLINES HYPO. Cleo, a pregnant hippopotamus at Swope Park in Kansas City, Co., decided the hypodermic injection she got was plenty. The injection, put in her softer underside, so irritated Cleo, she was ready to thwart a repeat performance the next day. She sat down and fought. Efforts to get the needle into her tough hide failed. A veterinarian said his needle was bent into four different shapes.

'Becky' Gross Plans Comeback

Crippled Woman Editor To Resume News Career

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — One week after the tragic accident in which she lost both legs, Rebecca Gross made plans from a hospital wheel chair today towards resuming her active newspaper career.

Already the 48-year-old editor of the Lock Haven (Pa.) Express is looking forward to learning to walk with the aid of artificial limbs as the first step in her return to full-time duty at the paper.

What will she write about? The smiling, brunette woman known to doctors across the nation as "Becky" has a ready answer for that question:

"I'm going to write a lot about highway safety," she told a reporter.

The grim statistics of highway safety will not be a new topic for Becky, The Express of last Thursday published her lead editorial title "How Not To Start A New Year."

"No one needs to be one of those New Year accident victims," she wrote. "Who wants to start the New Year in a hospital or a morgue?"

At 5:15 that afternoon, while the newspaper was being delivered in her north-central Pennsylvania home town area, Miss Gross was driving to Williamsport Airport to meet her sister. At an intersection, her car and another collided. She was thrown to the street, pinned against a pole.

At the hospital, told that amputation of the right leg below the knee and the left leg above the knee was unavoidable, Becky asked that a radio, typewriter and fountain pen be sent to her room.'

With them she began the rehabilitation that is her unwavering aim today.

"A little later I expect to write again for the paper, perhaps on an irregular schedule at first. When I have learned to walk again I exect to go back to the Express on a full-time permanent basis."

Miss Gross joined the Express staff as a reporter in 1925. She was one of the first two U.S. newspaperwomen selected for a Nieman Fellowship at Harvard. Last year she was one of seven U.S. newspaper editors who made an unprecedented trip to Russia, and later reported extensively on the trip for the Associated Press.

Sledding Is Dangerous For Cleveland Brothers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Six-year-old John Deller went sledding near his home yesterday and crashed into a parked auto.

While he was being taken to a hospital, his 5-year-old brother, Sam—unaware John had been hurt—also went sledding and rammed into a tree.

The brothers are in serious condition at the same hospital today, John with a brain concussion and Sam with a possible skull fracture.

Louisiana Crash Kills 6

BASTROP, La. (AP)—Six persons died—five from one family—in a head-on automobile crash north of here yesterday. Two others were injured.

Police said Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lynn, both in their 30's, and their three children, Danny 7; Curtis 3, and Derrell, an infant girl, all of Bastrop, and Mrs. Ida Moore of Jones, La., were killed.

Five-year-old Donnie Lynn was among the injured.

Issue Over Pike Funds Release Still Unsettled

Controversy Slated To Be Aired Before Assembly on Monday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two state legislators say they will bring the question of release of funds for a second Ohio turnpike before other members of the Legislature meeting in special session Monday.

Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R-Muskingum), in a meeting of the state controling board yesterday, continued to oppose release of funds until other members of the Legislature consider the matter. He said he would bring the turnpike question up by resolution or in caucus.

Moorehead and Rep. J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland) have blocked release of $650,000 asked by Highway Director S. O. Linzell for a survey of a proposed highway as well as the $90,000 asked more recently for a preliminary survey.

At the meeting yesterday, State Auditor James A. Rhodes proposed release of $9,000 to survey a Cincinnati-Conneaut route and an additional $45,000 for a spur to Toledo, but the motion died for lack of a second.

Rhodes' proposal contained a condition that the board later would release an additional $565,000 to complete the survey if the preliminary studies indicated it was feasible.

Moorehead said he was not in favor of Rhodes' proposal "at this time and McClure reiterated his previous stand that he wanted to discuss turnpike funds with the Legislature.

Because four favorable votes required to approve his resolution were lacking, Rhodes withdrew his motion.

NEW DIRECTOR

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Charles K. Yontz of Columbus will succeed Mrs. Depew Head, Columbus, as executive director of the Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library Feb. 1. Ohio Wesleyan Alumni Fund Hits $96,016

Special to The Star

DELAWARE — A final surge of gifts from alumni and friends put the 1953 Ohio Wesleyan University Alumni Fund $3,000 over its $93,000 goal, Mrs. Glee H. Murray, Alumni Fund secretary, reported today.

Final tabulations after the Dec. 31 deadline showed that 4,353 contributions had been received for a total of $96,016.25. In 1952, the Fund received 4,182 contributions which added up to $85,675.

This year the Alumni Fund will be aiming at a goal of $100,000. Started in 1926, the Fund brought in $16,455 in 1946, reached $66,312 in 1950 and has climbed steadily toward the ultimate goal of $100,000, which the university hopes its alumni and friends will contribute each year.

The primary aim of the Ohio Wesleyan Alumni Fund is "to provide a salary structure that will attract, retain and reward great and able teachers." Branch Rickey, a 1904 graduate of OWU, and general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates Baseball Club, is president of the Alumni Fund council.

The continued success of the fund already has raised teaching salaries from a floor of $2,500 and ceiling of $5,200 in 1948-49 to a floor of $3,300 and ceiling of $6,800 in 1953-54.

Bible Words to Live by

PSALM 91:1 — "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty."

* * *

From early childhood this lofty expression from the Psalmist has been a source of confidence and peace for my soul. This is the first Scripture passage ever to make a conscious impression upon my mind. I recall with pleasure the family devotions held in my home and conducted by my father when I was a small boy. During one of these, an aged and highly respected minister was a guest in the home. My father requested that the visitor read the Scripture and lead the family in prayer. I remember how this venerable saint selected and read the 91st Psalm. I can never forget the feeling with which it was read. All of this left a lasting impression upon my childish mind.

Through the many years that have since gone by, this passage has grown sweeter. Its beautiful imagery has warmed my heart on many occasions. The very thought of the protecting love of God that continually overshadows and keeps those who trust in him is for me "a shelter in the time of storm."

REV. NORMAN D. RENN
Launches Recognition Services

Service at Baptist Church Recognizes Railroad Families

The first in what is hoped will be a series of recognition services honoring groups of families connected with the industrial life of Marion was held on a recent Sunday at Fite Memorial Baptist Church.

On that day, members of 32 Erie Railroad families whose livelihood is gained from work for the Erie Railroad attended in a body, filling five rows of front seats in the church auditorium for the morning worship service. The pastor, Rev. Norman D. Renn, was in charge of the service. It is hoped that in the near future similar recognition will be a part of morning worship at various times for other industrial family groups represented among the church membership. Attendance at Sunday School averaged 300 last year.

Present for the recognition service for the Erie group were 52 members of families of the railroad's employes. Oldest member of the railroad "family" is Mrs. Iva Northup whose husband, the late Amos Northup, was an Erie brakeman. She attended in 1909 the mission that developed into Fite Memorial Church and was a charter member of the congregation which was organized in 1913.

James F. Lincoln Speaks

Kiwanis Installs Officers, Hears Noted Industrialist

Officers for the new year, headed by Rev. M. E. Hollensen as president, were inducted and committees were named at the Kiwanis Club weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding.

Speaker for the program was James Finney Lincoln, Cleveland industrialist. He is president and general manager of the Lincoln Electric Co. of Cleveland, manufacturers of welding equipment.

Members of the club were joined by a number of guests for the occasion.

Taking office with Rev. Hollensen were E. L. Mitchell, first vice president; W. Leonard Young, second vice president; Karl D. Bechtle, secretary; E. Paul Bachman, treasurer; Robert W. Fay, Robert F. Williams, C. Ray Campbell, C. L. Baxter, G. C. McCreight, Carl S. Kay, Dale Lawrence and F. Harold Fralich, members of the board of directors.

Kay, guests and reception; Jack E. Lautenslager, public relations.

Mr. Dickey, as retiring president, was presented a scrapbook of the entire past year's club activities. The presentation was made by Rev. Hollensen.

—:—

SPEAKING ON THE subject "Incentive Management in Industry," Mr. Lincoln talked mainly of the Lincoln Incentive System which has been widely studied by industry.

The success or failure of incentive management, Mr. Lincoln maintains, depends on the state of mind of the people involved and the reaction of the employes. Such a plan succeeds because the people want it to. The program, he said, has been in force in the Lincoln Co. for the last 20 years.

The speaker told his audience that because of the increase in efficiency in his plant, the company has been able to reduce the price of its products in spite of the increase in labor and material costs.

FREEDOM OF opportunity is a prime need in the world of today, he said and asked the question "Have we placed security ahead of freedom?" He stressed that we should maintain our freedom and work for security.

The speaker was intoduced by Julian H. Walker.

Smith H. Witter, new business manager of The Marion Star, was introduced as a new member by James C. Woods, who retired Jan. 1 as business manager of The Star.

A visiting Kiwanian at the meeting was Cliff Iman of Crestline.

FBI Arrests Cattle Rustler

Chester Davenport One of 'Most Wanted'

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Chester Lee Davenport, southwestern cattle rustler, escape artist and one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, was in jail here today after nearly six months of "behaving like a very normal citizen."

The 31-year-old Wichita Falls, Tex., fugitive was surprised by a posse yesterday as he milked a cow at a dairy at nearby Dixon. He had worked there since shortly after his escape from the state reformatory at Granita, Okla., July 4.

He was to be arraigned today in San Francisco on fugitive charges. U.S. Commissioner Adelia McCabe at Sacramento declined to reopen her office last night for arraignment of "such a pipsqueak."

Dixon Police Chief Lester Peters said Davenport had been "holing up in this small community, behaving like a very normal citizen."

Bid To Motorize Postal Wagons Gets Quaker City Horse Laugh

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Post Office Department, after an exhaustive survey of the comparative merits of the horse and wagon versus mechanized transportation for center city mail delivery has ruled in favor of old Dobbin.

Attempts to supplant the horse-drawn mail wagons in the Quaker City are as common as jokes about the horrid taste of the water.

About every four years, efficiency experts, armed with charts, time-pieces and other modern paraphernalia set out to prove that the horseless buggy is far superior to the percheron for transportation.

Each time they've been given the horse laugh and gone away beaten men, their faith in progress and modern science badly shaken.

Washington set out last year on another survey. The Post Office Department's bureau of facilities made time and motion studies in the central city area.

It timed the horse-drawn wagons against truck delivery in the center city area.

It compared these statistics with past experiments. There were lots of comparative statistics because this thing has been going on for 30 years.

Their decision made the hardiest of them weep:

There's just no better way to get the mail through central city traffic snarls than by horse and wagon.

It takes a horse and wagon to get through narrow back streets to the rear entrances of business establishments.

What's more — and here's the beauty of it all—no worry about parking problems. The driver merely drops off the deliveryman and then clop clops on to the next rendzevous.

The steely-eyed efficiency experts even learned operating 29 teams leased from teamsters was less costly in the long run than buying mechanized equipment. Depreciation and maintenance there would be on the government.

The final conclusion; There is nothing like the horse for economy and efficiency.

Stengel Re-Elected By Library Board

Dr. F. A. Stengel was re-elected president at the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Marion Public Library. Lester L. Dickey was elected vice president and Mrs. E. G. During the business session the library staff was rehired and also voted a five per cent raise in salary. The staff is composed of Miss Helen Kramer, librarian, Miss Florence Sneckenberger, Mrs. Carrie Barnthouse and Miss Theresa Lockwood, assistant librarians, and substitute librarians are Mrs. H. K. Henderson and Miss Gail Jones. Librarians in the branch libraries are Mrs. Ione Cardiff, Caledonia, Mrs. Irma Wottring, Prospect, and Miss Virginia Clements, LaRue.

Policeman Too Busy

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Patrolman Leon Lewis believed today that a policeman can get too busy enforcing the law.

Yesterday, while he was making seven arrests in the market area here, somebody else was busy, too. They stole the fender skirts, worth about $40, off his prowl car.

Modernization Program Set By Air Force

Special to The Star

SHELBY—The Air Force has launched a modernization program to improve the effectiveness of its technical publications.

The Air Materiel Command, in announcing the plan, said that the modernization involves three major policy changes in the Technical Order System, one of the nation's biggest and most complex printing operations. The ultimate objectives are to improve the efficiency of the Technical Orders, insure timely delivery of technical data to users, and develop procedures to maintain existing technical data on a current basis.

The Wilkins Air Force Depot at Shelby, which for the past three years has been responsible for the issuance of Technical Orders on a world wide basis, states that approximately 25,000 Technical Orders are involved. These Technical Orders provide technical guidance to contractors, maintenance personnel, supply officers, aircraft inspectors, and training specialists.

The major changes included in the new program provide for a new Technical Order numbering system, a new Data Requirements Document, and decentralization of distribution of Technical Orders from Wilkins Air Force Depot and Cheli Air Force Depot, Maywood, Calif., to ten prime maintenance depots. The depots which will assume distribution responsibilities are the Air Material Area Depots at San Antonio, Oklahoma City, Sacramento, Mobile Macon, Middletown, Pa., and San Bernardino, Calif.; and the Gentile Air Force Depot, Dayton, O., and Rome Air Force Depot, Rome, N. Y.

The first phase of the new program is expected to begin at Wilkins July 1, 1954, and be completed by Nov. 15.

Depot officials at the Shelby Air Force installation said that approximately 130 depot employes in the directorate of supply and the directorate of technical publications will be affected by the decentralization. However, present plans provide for absorption of affected personnel by other organizations within the depot. This plan, plus the normal attrition which will take place during the time required to complete the first phase of the new program, will reduce the need for a reduction-in-force to an absolute minimum.

Barons Notch 5-1 Victory Over Milwaukee Skaters

Short-Handed Marion Club Gains Tie for Second Spot

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Marion's Barons continued to skate upward in the International Hockey League standing by scoring a clean-cut 5-1 victory over the last place Chiefs before another scant crowd of about 1,000 at the area here last night. The Barons went ahead in the first minutes and stayed there without being seriously threatened.

The win boosted the Barons into a three-way tie for second place. Marion, Johnstown and Toledo are deadlocked with 40 points. Cincinnati belted Louisville last night 10-3 to protect its margin. The Mohawks are perched atop the league with 49 points.

Meet Cincinnati

The Barons will meet the league-leaders in a two-game series this weekend. The two squads will clash at the Cincinnati Gardens Saturday night and Sunday afternoon will meet in a return engagement at the Marion Coliseum. The Barons will be near full strength for the two games.

The Barons had only 11 skaters in uniform, but they proved to be enough, with something to spare. Ken Schultz and Phil Vitale were sitting out league suspensions. Veterans Dutch Delmonte and Coach Ott Heller took over on defense when the going got rough and comprised all the help Lou Crowdis needed to keep the impotent Chiefs at bay.

The Chiefs had 14 men available but Coach Lou Trudel kept Defenseman Bud Laidler on the bench for disciplinarian reasons.

Marion scored two goals on as many shots in the first six minutes, and that, as it turned out, was decisive.

Jones Boys Score

Harold and Wimpy Jones scored on Goalie Bob Arniel to put the Barons ahead for keeps. Romie Besidowski got one point back for Milwaukee but Tony Poeta made it 3-1 before the period was over and W. Jones made it 4-1 with the only goal of the second period.

Gordon Vejaprava scored a fifth goal for Marion early in the last period and then the drab game suddenly was inlivened by separate fights between Nich Hill of Milwaukee and Murray Wilkie and Lou Matthieu of the Chiefs and Ted Lebioda. All four drew five minute penalties, but not before Matthieu had taken a poke at Delmonte on the Marion bench. Matthieu and Leboida were banished from the game.

Armory Wrestlers Struggle to Draw

Billy Fox and Scotty Williams wrestled to a draw in the main event of last night's wrestling show at the armory. Both won single falls.

Fox took the first in 18 minutes with a reversed arm lock but the match was evened up when Williams came back to take the second fall with a body grapevine in 10 minutes. Then neither was able to pin his foe in the third and deciding fall.

Gino Angelo and Ricky Waldo teamed up in a tag event to whip Sandro Fozo and Aztec Garcia. The losers were disqualified in the first fall and lost the second when Waldo pinned Fozo with a body press.

Jim Lewis won the preliminary from Dutch Schultz in 13 minutes with a slam and body press.

Clark Offered Line Post With OSU Grid Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Journal said today it learned "from a reliable source" that Woody Hayes, football coach at Ohio State University, had offered a job as line coach to Lyal Clark, line coach at Minnesota.

Clark was an assistant coach at Ohio State under Wes Fesler, but moved to Minnesota with Fesler three years ago. Fesler resigned recently at Minnesota to take a radio job.

The State Journal cited the report as the first indication that Hayes is considering shaking up his coaching staff. Ohio State won 6 and lost 3 in 1953.

Dick Larkins, Ohio State athletic director, said recently before a Cleveland alumni group that Hayes and all his assistants would return in 1954.

The present line coach at Ohio State is Harry L. Strobel, on the staff since 1949. Other assistant line coaches are Esco Sarkkinen, end coach and Bill Arnsparger, tackle coach.

Brown's North Squad Boasts Edge in Weight

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The weather and the experts are favoring the South in tomorrow's Senior Bowl football game, but weight and victories by Coach Paul Brown in the last two contests are on the North's side.

The weatherman has promised a rainless day with the temperature near 70 for this fifth annual contest in which college seniors make their professional debuts.

And South Coach Steve Owen is expected to match the warm weather with the sizzling right arm of Georgia's Zeke Bratkowski, who led the Southeastern Conference this past season by completing 113 of 224 tosses for 1,461 yards.

The North line, led by 256 pound Bob Fleck of Syracuse, may be able, however, to spring its big backs through the lighter South forward wall enough to match the passing of Bratkowski, Auburn's Vince Dooley and East Texas Teachers' Jim Gray.

Since Brown began coaching the North two years ago, he has won both games and evened the four-year standings at 2-2. Owen has directed the South all four years.

Convention Warned TV Does Hit Small School

CINCINNATI (AP) — It seems even the athletic officials of small schools sometimes stay away from their own games to watch televised college football contests involving major schools.

An athletic official at Wayne University told an NCAA television meeting yesterday that Wayne sold only 500 tickets for a game with Valparaiso last fall which came on the same day as a televised University of Michigan game. Then he added:

"As a matter of fact I stayed home and watched the Michigan game myself."

Middleweights See Action in TV Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Giardello, the only fighter with a Supreme Court decision over Bob Christenberry, risks his No. 3 ranking in the middleweight class tonight against bullish Garth Panter of Salt Lake City.

The 10-rounder, scheduled for 10 p.m. (EST) will be held at Madison Square Garden with network radio (ABC) and television (NBC) coverage.

Ever since the court "reversed the reversal" by the chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission to give Giardello a disputed decision over Billy Graham, the Philadelphian has been a more determined boxer. His 1953 record, not including the court ruling, was 6-2 for eight bouts. He lost only to Graham in a 12-round rematch and to Johnny Saxton at 155 pounds.

Giardello is a 2½ to 1 favorite over the strong-jawed Panter. Joey's career record for 61 bouts is 46-1-5.

Panter also has gained confidence since he cracked the TV circuit. His most important '53 victories were scored over Piere Langlois and Walter Cartier although he lost to Cartier in a return go. In his last outing, Panter whipped a ring rusty Norman Hayes at Detroit, Dec. 2. His record is 52-12-2.

'Propagandist' Hired

NFL Declares Open War With Canadian Leagues

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League and the Canadian professional leagues were at open "war" today with the cream of American football players as the booty.

The long-time friction over contracting players between the U.S. league and its northern rivals erupted yesterday in a series of charges, counter-charges and counter-counter-charges.

Orville Burke, vice-president of the Calgary Stampeders, said an all out war over players was in the offing and accused the NFL of hiring a "propagandist" to slander the Canadian game and persuade U.S. college players to stay home.

The NFL's voluble commissioner, Bert Bell, replied "If they (the Canadian leagues) want a war over players we'll give them one. At least we haven't gone out and signed players we knew were under contract to sombody else the way they did."

Asked about the "propagandist" charge, Bell replied:

"If he means we are telling the American players the truth about Canadian football, then we've hired a propagandist."

Bell said the NFL had hired a man to go on the road and tell the graduating college football players the diference between American and Canadian pro football conditions.

Bell identified the NFL representative as Bob Snyder, former coach of Burke's Calgary team.

Bell's volley was answered by Jim McCafrey, a member of the Canadian Rugby Union, who said the commissioner was mostly "popping off" when he spoke of a player war.

"I feel Mr. Bell is only voicing his own personal opinion," McCaffrey said. "We know that it is not the opinion of all the owners of teams in the National Football League."

McCaffrey added, however, that he knew NFL team owners had met secretly about a month ago to make their draft selections of college players.

To this Bell commented: "Mr. McCaffrey has a wonderful imagination." Bell denied there was any secret draft meeting and issued an invitation for McCafrey to "stand outside the Bellevue - Stratford (hotel in Philadelphia)" on Jan. 28 "to see for himself" the actual NFL player draft in progress.

Harding, St. Mary Squads Juggled for League Play

Prexies' Mentor May Use New Starting Combination

Jim Lawler will send a revamped lineup into action tonight when Harding travels to Fostoria in an attempt to climb above the .500 mark with its first Buckeye League victory.

Lawler has been juggling the lineup all week in hopes of coming up with the combination that can snap the Prexies out of the four-game losing streak which has knocked their once impressive 4-0 record down to a mediocre 4-4.

At present, he lists three definite starters. Center Dave Schneker, 6-2, and guard Don Smith, 5-7, are the only regulars assurred if berths on the starting quintet. The other definite is forward Max Kaelber, 6-0, who will be starting for the first time since early season.

The other starting forward will be either regular Bob Hamor, 5-11, or 6-3 Lowell McFann who has just been elevated from jayvee to varsity status. A sophomore, McFann was originally slated to start tonight but he bruised his hip in Wednesday's practice.

Lawler says he will probably start Doug Bibler, 5-7, at the other guard but might go along with Ron Conroy, 5-8½. Conroy currently tops the Harding scoring column, but Lawler reports he has gone into a bad slump recently and can't seem to find the target.

Fostoria has a non-impressive 3-5 record, but in their lone league outing the Redmen posted a 51-50 win over Bowling Green, the team that knocked off the Prexies 76-53 in their only league game.

Fostoria's other two wins were over Sandusky 51-39 and Toledo MacComber 53-49. It has been handed defeats by Lorain 56-40, Mansfield 67-52, Fremont Ross 49-46 in overtime, Cincinnati Western Hills 46-45 and Bellevue 68-55.

Jim Arwood, a veteran 6-3 center, is the top scorer among the Redmen. He's been tallying an average of about 19 points per game.

Harding started off the season in great style, romping over Bexley 61-47, Galion 72-38, Willard 96-35 Columbus Aquinas 66-57, Then the Prexies bowed to Columbus West 74-71 and from then on its been down hill with losses to Bowling Green, Findlay 76-53 and Ashland 78-55.

Code of Ethics Given Approval At NCAA Talks

By FRITZ HOWELL

CINCINNATI (AP)—After five days of not too thrilling skirmishing, the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. wraps up its 48th annual convention today by voting on sundry matters ranging from ethics to football television.

While the delegates are doing their only balloting of the week-long conclave which has attracted 1,300 to the Queen City, athletic directors at seven or eight schools continued their search for head coaches.

There wasn't a chance the country would get anything except game-a-aweek television on a national scale. Practically all the arguments for lifting some of the controls disappeared yesterday in round table discussions.

The American Football Coaches Assn. launched a cooperative relationship with the NCAA yesterday designed to bring about stricter enforcement of NCAA rules and the coaches' own code of ethics, adopted last year.

Don Faurot of Missouri, retiring president of the coaches, said the association could bar from membership any mentor found guilty of anything violating the spirit of the rules. The resolution passed by the coaches did not define in any way what would constitute a violation, but Faurot offered as his personal opinion:

"This means that such things as recruiting, entertainment of prospective athletes, inaccurate program weights for players, coaching from the sidelines, and possibly the use of the sucker shift and the faking of injuries might be, in the future, construed as violating the spirit of the rules.

"In the past I've been guilty of using inaccurate weights of players in programs. If I hadn't, I'd have had the biggest team in our conference, and I know I didn't have the biggest team. In the future if you see the players weights in a program all ending in "five" or "zero", you'll know damned well they're dishonest.

"I don't believe we'd consider a coach's occasional kicking motion, or passing motion, in the heat of a tight game, as sideline coaching. But the use of the trainer or substitutes to give regular offensive or defensive signals from the bench would certainly be a violation."

Richards Ready

Chisox Hoping for Help From Southpaw Hurlers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have answered Manager Paul Richards' call for left-handed pitching help with the purchase of four top flight minor league southpaws.

The quartet is among 13 newcomers who will report to the Sox's new training camp at Tampa, Fla. The rookie crop includes nine pitchers, three outfielders and an infielder.

The rookie pitcher with the most impressive record is Jack Harshman, a former first baseman who switched to the mound. The 26-year-old southpaw, who failed in brief bids with the New York Giants both at first base and on the mound, did a terrific about face last season.

Pitching for Nashville of the Southern Association, Harshman turned in 23 victories against only 7 losses and added 4 more triumphs in the playoffs. This prompted the White Sox to shell out a reported $25,000 for his services.

The other three new southpaws—Al Sima, Jocko Thompson and Hal Hudson—also have played in the big leagues. Sima, drafted from Chattanooga, spent all of 1953 with Washington where he had a 2-3 record. He is 31. He is currently the hottest pitcher in the Cuban League, sporting a 7 - 3 record.

Thompson, another draftee, had a 10-4 record at Baltimore last season. The former Philadelphia Phillie will be 34 next week. Hudson who once toiled for the St. Louis Browns, had an overall 11-10 record with Charleston and Toronto.

The best of the new righthanders appear to be Dick Strahs, Tom Hurd and Don Johnson. Strahs, 29, won 16 and lost eight at Memphis. Hurd, also 29, was 17-11 with the same club. Johnson, the former Yankee, Brownie and Washington pitcher, posted a 15-12 mark with Tortonto and led all International League pitchers with a 2.63 earned run average.

Al Zilian, 29, was 16-12 at Oklahoma City. Vito Valentinetti, a returning serviceman, lost his only decision with Charleston.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

A former football coach in the Marion City School system called it quits last week. He was Howard Hoffman, who turned in his resignation from the head coaching spot at Troy High School.

SHORT

Hoffman coached in Marion for at least six years in the late 30s and early 40s. Following his time spent as head man at Central Junior High School he moved up as an assistant coach at Harding where he served under Bill Williams.

During his stay in Marion, Hoffman gave Don Kay, Pete Howison's assistant at Harding, his first grid training. Kay later played freshman football at Ohio State and at Xavier University in Cincinnati.

Hoffman left Marion in 1943 to resume work on his master's degree. His resignation last week, ended 10 years at the Troy school. He had been head coach only through the last season when his charges dropped nine straight games.

He announced he would remain as a member of the Troy High School faculty as a mathematics instructor.

Irish Coach Shifts Players, 'Short Five' To See Action

St. Mary will go on the road twice this weekend in its campaign for the Mid-Ohio Conference title.

The Irish travel to Richwood tonight and make the trip to Cardington tomorrow. In both games the squad will be trying to make up for its poor start in conference competition when it lost to Mt. Gilead 53-51.

In an attempt to find a clicking combination, Coach Ray Robbins has been doing a lot of shifting and experimenting with his charges. He seems to have found the answer in what he calls his "short five," the outfit that saw most of the action in St. Mary's last two victories.

Robbins' new combination has the squad's two high-scorers, Mike Anderson, 5-11, and Roger Micheli, 5-10, in the pivot spots with Jerry Ballenger, 5-8, Butch Merchant, 5-7, and John Messenger, also 5-7, operating on the outside.

That's the lineup he'll use tonight with the exception of Jack O'Keeffe filling in for Ballenger who sprained his ankle in Tuesday's Kenton game and will see only limited action, he said.

Anderson with 147 points leads the Irish scoring parade. Micheli is second with 77 and Merchant a close third with 76.

Richwood has a 7-2 mark for the season and rests on top of the heap in the Union County League. Its two defeats have come at the hands of Marysville 58-44 and Morral 75-38. St. Mary defeated Morral 40-33 last week.

The Tigers have posted wins over Darby 62-42, Union 63-13, Johnstown 52-47, Byhalia 74-64, Cardington 81-70, Northwestern 35-50 and Magnetic Springs 73-68.

Tom Shields is the team's top point-getter. He's poured in 184 for an average of 20 per game.

Baker Nips Edison In Jr. High Opener

An Edison rally fell short as Eber Baker raced to a 39-36 win in the opening Marion Junior High League game of the season Thursday on the losers' court.

Baker held 12-point leads of 28-16 and 32-20 at halftime and the three-quarter mark before Edison suddenly became hot and began to slice the lead. The losers led once in the contest, 7-6 in the opening period, but Baker jumped out front 11-9 at the first quarter and increased its margin in the next two periods.

Gary Sanders with 15 points sparked the Baker offense. Jed Middleton added 10. High for the losers was Phil Sykes with 14 markers. Gary Williams and Larry Jay each added six to the losers cause.

In a preliminary reserve contest, Baker notched a 27-21 win as Dave Williams contributed eight points and Vaughn Williams seven for the winners. Bill Martin hit for eight for Edison.

Edison is at Taft Wednesday in a Marion Junior High League contest while on Thursday, Baker entertains St. Mary.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Color in My Living Room

It was just like olden times. The neighbors filed in, expectant, only slightly awed by the wonder of the thing. The glasses were filled all around. (This thing is going to be just as rough on the liquor supply as the other thing.) The children clamored for and got gingerale. The occasion rapidly became — as in those distant days, all of five years ago — a party.

J. CROSBY

That's the way things are when you are the first man in the block — or in many, many blocks — to possess a color television set. I don't own it. I've just been loaned the precious thing which, I am told, is worth something like $2,000, and naturally, I was anxious to show it off. (President Eisenhower got one in the White House the same week I did. Me and the President —well, well! The difference is that he gets to keep his. I don't.)

-:-

WHILE IN BLACK and white of medieval days you could invite the neighbors in most any night, you have to find out when something is going on in color, which isn't too often. The first thing in color since I got my set was the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena on New Year's Day.

I was astir early that day, laying out the glasses, emptying ashtrays, tidying up and wondering nervously how many people I had invited. I was also slightly nervous—as in days of yore with black-and-white—whether the thing would work right. I'd had no practice on running the gadget because there'd been no color shows to practice on. I walked around muttering to myself: "You can be sure if it's Westinghouse." And it IS a Westinghouse.

This Tournament of Roses colorcast, incidentally, was a notable event in many ways. It was the first west-to-east network transmission in color. (There have been a good many that have gone the other way.) It was photographed with remote color equipment of which there is almost none in the world. It was the first colorcast to emanate from the great outdoors since the FCC approved the compatible system. All the rest have come from specially equipped color studios where the engineers can control things much more carefully. And it was carried in color by 21 stations scattered around the country.

IN SPITE OF ALL THIS — or rather because of all these factors of newness — it was a pretty bad show. The colors, which I had been boasting were truer than Technicolor, ran all over the place; when I got the reds to look red, the green looked almost black; when I turned up the greens, the reds went wild and everyone turned red. Don Ameche, who narrated, was the hue of a freshly boiled lobster.

By a few judicious inquiries among color engineers, I have found this wasn't the fault of the set (or of my operation of it) but of the transmission. It was pretty bad everywhere.

Allowances must be made for NBC, though. This is the first time they've tackled anything quite so elaborate as this and I think the network was wise to get its mistakes out of its system while practically no one in the country has color sets.

HAVING SEEN A GOOD many colorcasts before (though not in my own livingroom), I was more interested in the reaction of the others who hadn't. The adults were politely impressed, wincing only slightly at the imperfections. The young children took it calmly, accepting — as they do — all miracles as commonplace.

The teenagers were enchanted with it. One of them wanted to know how long this had been going on, why didn't his family have such a set, and said he was going straight home and demand that his father get one. (I told him he'd have to wait a bit. There aren't any in the stores yet.)

ONE THING STRUCK ME forcibly. I had a black-and-white set next to the color set, both tuned to the Tournament of Roses. Nobody gave the black-and-white more than an occasional glance and then only to make comparison. Black and white is no competition to color television — even bad color television — and this was about as bad as it ever gets.

I must have all those people back some time to see a studio show to demonstrate how good this gadget can be, not forgetting to check the liquor and ginger ale stocks first.

Rickenbacker Is Named 'Big Brother of the Year'

NEW YORK (AP) — Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Air Lines, has been appointed "Big Brother of the Year," winning an award made annually as part of the observance in the United States and Canada of Big Brother Week—scheduled for Sunday through Jan. 17.

Charles G. Berwind, president of Big Brothers of America, Inc., announced Rickenbacker's selection yesterday. Berwind cited Rickenbacker "for his outstanding service in behalf of youth which best exemplifies the spirit and objectives of the Big Brother movement."

The U. S. monthly milk production is around eight million pounds.

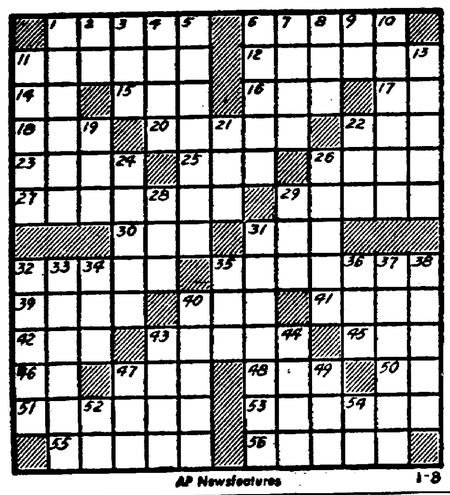
Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle



GOAT TROUBLE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP) —Joe Dixon was haled into court here to answer charges of driving a goat along a county road with an improper muffler and no driver's license. Clayton Barber told Justice of the Peace Clyde Kissinger that the goat belonged to him and was used in his orange grove where it didn't need a muffler. Dixon, he said, was driving it for him by mistake. The confused Kissinger dismissed the case. Turned out the goat was a "fruit goat," a vehicle resembling a flat-bed truck.

REFLECTION

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP) — Three companies answered an emergency call from a housewife who said a nearby building was afire. While the firemen were en route, she called back to cancel the alarm. The "fire" turned out to be a reflection on the window of the building from a nearby rubbish fire.
